President about to resign?

The question of whether President Richard M. Nixon is about to resign was uppermost in the minds of Americans in Washington and elsewhere today.

There were strong indications that he will resign and that he has become convinced that he otherwise has no chance of avoiding impeachment by the House and conviction by the Senate.

Legislative leaders who conferred with him yesterday told him he lacks the votes to prevent removal from office.

Reports indicate that all 26 Illinois Congressmen and both U.S. senators from this state are prepared to vote against Mr. Nixon.

The "last straw" was said by many legislators to have been the disclosure Monday afternoon of new transcripts showing the President directly and immediately sought to cover-up his aides' involvement in the June 1972 break-in at the Democratic national headquarters.

If he leaves office by resignation or removal, the President will be replaced by another Republican, former House minority leader Gerald R. Ford.

Ford, who was appointed to replace Vice President Spiro Agnew last fall, will become President if that office is vacated.

Ford then would choose a new Vice President, subject to Senate confirmation.

Those being mentioned as possibilities include Melvin Laird, Elliott Richardson, Nelson Rockefeller and California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

If Vice President Gerald Ford should become President, it would please a large and influential segment of the Republican party in Illinois.

At a $125-a-plate dinner in Chicago to raise funds for Republican State Senate candidates, Ford was the speaker. His appearance attracted 2,500 loyal GOP supporters to the Conrad Hilton ballroom.

The turnout was significant, especially in a year when Republican fortunes may be at their lowest point in 40 years.

The vice president arrived in Chicago the day it became clear that the House Judiciary Committee was certain to approve articles of impeachment. This made for a tense atmosphere unprecedented for an event of this type.

Security was tight and the usual informal mingling of the national leader with the

The new multi-million dollar soybean processing plant built on Carlgill Road by Archer Daniels, Midland Co. of Decatur, Ill., will begin operations Thursday, Aug. 15, it was announced today.

The soybean crushing facility which will produce soybean oil and meal will begin operations at twice the capacity originally planned when construction of the plant was begun in mid-1973, according to James Randall, executive vice-president of ADM and president of its subsidiary, Corn Sweeteners, Inc., of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

The new plant will process approximately 2,000 tons, or 66,000 bushels, of soybeans per day, he said. Original construction plans were based on 1,000 tons or 33,000 bushels per day, but the plant construction was expanded as the building work went on, Randall said.

"The plant contains basic equipment that will permit further expansion at any time, up to a capacity of 5,000 tons, or approximately 165,000 bushels, in each day of operation," he explained, noting that such expansion will depend upon marketing conditions.

Paul C. Perkins, employment manager at ADM's Decatur offices, told the Press-Record that operations will begin next week with 61 plant and office employees, with total employment expected to reach approximately 75.

The new processing plant is located near the ADM grain elevator which the company purchased in February 1973 prior to the development of

Hope to beef up taxicab service

A request that Granite City revise its zoning system for taxi cab fares and reduce the license fees for cab operation as a means of improving area cab service was referred by the City Council Monday night to its Traffic Committee for study and a recommendation for action.

The request was made by Ron Jamerson, operator of the Yellow Cab Co., 1338 Nineteenth St., and Dave Richards, operator of Dave's Taxi Service, 1307 Madison Ave., who told the council by letter that the present rating system is unfair to taxi cab users and that the current license fees makes it "impossible to run a profitable business."

The two cab firm operators said they recently had acquired their respective businesses and are making efforts to improve the quality of their equipment and to provide better service and better drivers.

They said, however, that the city's license fee of $125 for the first cab and $25 for each additional cab operated by a company is "too much of a draught on profits" to permit a profitable operation. The fee is "double and triple" that of other communities, the operators said.

In addition, Jamerson and Richards said, the zoning system for assessing cab fares is a high in some respects and

School budget up, tax down

The Granite City Board of Education approved a tentative budget of $21,689,810 for the July 1974-June 1975 fiscal year Tuesday night.

Despite the new budget's $2,082,327 rise from the actual 1973-74 budget of $19,607,483, the property tax rate for schools in Community Unit District Nine is expected to decrease about four cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Formal budget and tax levy actions are planned following a public hearing on proposed 1974-75 school spending at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 17 at the board office, 20th and Adams Streets.

It is proposed to lower the overall tax levy from $8,208,043 to $8,169,475.

Specific tax rates remain to be set at the county level following determination of new assessment and levy totals, but it is anticipated that the current school district rate of $3.79 may fall to slightly below $3.75.

Tentative 1974-75 and actual 1973-74 budget tallies are as follows:

Education fund—$18,459,220 ($16,781,718). The amount includes community college tuition contributions from the school district.

Building operation and maintenance fund—$1,135,335 ($884,604).

Bond and interest fund—$974,073 ($1,098,875).

Transportation fund—$603,460 ($423,716).

And Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund—$517,702 ($417,590).

The current district-wide assessed valuation of $216,571,069 for the 1973 tax year (1974 collection) is estimated as increasing to $218 million for the 1974 tax year (1975 collection).

The projected tax rate of $3.7492 compares with the present $3.79 rate as follows:

Education—$2.55 ($2,547.07); building operation and maintenance—$7.90 cents ($7,471.76); transportation—12 cents ($12.00); retirement—23.74 cents ($23,740.00); community college fund—2.00 cents ($2,000.00); and bond and interest fund—44.68 cents ($44,680.00).

Officials summarized the principal changes as a four-cent rate boost for retirement financing, and rate decreases of about four cents each for college tuition and bond payments.

A breakdown of the planned tax levies consists of:

Education, $5,559,000 ($5,516,065 extended a year ago); building, $417,590 ($417,590); transportation, $261,600 ($259,885); retirement, $517,702 ($430,326); college fund, $43,800 ($139,471); and bond and interest, $970,073

($1,050,802).

MARVIN WALLACE

Injured Wallace boy dies

Marvin Edward Wallace, 14, of 1123 Meridian Ave., who was critically injured when he became wedged between a moving truck and a tree in the back yard at 2668 Missouri Ave. on May 6, died at 10:47 a.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The boy was helping his great-grandfather, Ross Powers, 2700 W. 20th St., load trash into the truck and did not see the boy behind him.

The Wallace youth was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with multiple injuries and transferred to Firms Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where he was admitted to the intensive care unit in critical condition. He later was returned to the Granite City hospital where he had been a patient for almost three months.

Born in Granite City, the youngster was a member of the First Baptist Church in Madison and belonged to the VFW Cadets.

He would have entered Madison High School this fall. Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Rosalie Wallace; his Hearings on annexations

Three petitions for annexation of property to Granite City were referred by City Council members Monday night to the City Plan Commission for hearings and recommendations.

The action followed partial reading of an ordinance for annexation of ten parcels of residential property in the Steeplechase Manor and the fourth addition of Steeplechase Manor.

Presentation of the ordinance was halted when aldermen noted that all annexation proceedings first must go before the City Plan Commission.

The other two annexation petitions were filed by individual residents who asked that their homes be included within the boundaries of Granite City. All of the properties are contiguous to the Granite City limits.

The petition for the Steeplechase Manor, which the city lake in lots 4, 7 and 8 of Steeplechase Manor, and lots 48 through 54 of the fourth addition of Steeplechase Manor. The petition was signed by Everett G. Steele as president of Wilshire Manor, Inc., and the property owners of the ten parcels involved.

Plight of imprisoned welfare workers told

"What really impressed us was that after hearing the story we realized that most of us here don't appreciate the freedom we have in the United States and the belief that a person is innocent until proven guilty," a Granite City couple said after returning here from a press conference in Indiana.

Mrs. and Mrs. Ivan Harrison, 2562 Cleveland Blvd., were visiting with their son, Russell, and his family, in Indianapolis at the time a young missionary couple were flown from Manila to Indiana after having been imprisoned.

The Harrisons were invited to attend the meeting as guests of their son who is connected with the United Christian Missionary Society that sponsored Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilson, the couple who were held captive.

The Wilsons and five of their friends were arrested June 26 at a dinner party in their home by the Philippine military for "suspicion of subversion." They never were charged officially with any crime, allowed to consult their attorney or given any type of hearing, they told the press conference at which Mr. and Mrs. Harrison were present.

Wilson explained that a guest at the party had brought a friend with him who was suspected by the government to be a high-level Communist leader.

When the military entered his house, Wilson demanded to see a warrant. As a result, he also was arrested. His wife was arrested a short time later.

Before their arrest, the Wilsons had been fraternal workers in rural life and agriculture serving with the Social Welfare and Education Commission of the National Council of Churches of the Philippines. Wilson had been involved with aiding the government there to create work cooperatives and credit unions.

According to the Wilsons, many household items and personal possessions worth more than $1,000 were confiscated.

discussed at the time of their arrest.

The Wilsons have not received the return of any of their possessions.

"We would have been there forever if it hadn't been for the concern of the American Press and the international attention focused on Manila due to the Miss Universe Pageant," Mrs. Wilson told the conference.

Wilson was imprisoned for 16 days and his wife, Marilyn for 10 days. Their son, James, after voluntarily spending three days in jail with his mother, spent the rest of the time with friends.

Mrs. Wilson recalled the feelings she had while being marched between two soldiers "with machine guns trained on my every move," Mr. and Mrs. Harrison added.

"We had to sleep on hard floors and bare bed springs and the food was really horrible," Mrs. Wilson added.

Although ordered "never to return," the Wilsons said they loved the people and the country, and added "there is still work to be done there," according to the Harrisons.

Two charges against man

Kenneth R. West Jr., 25, of 2047 Lee Ave., was named in two charges following an incident at Kate Street and Jerden Avenue at 10:55 p.m. Monday.

West allegedly grabbed his former wife, Mrs. Peggy West, throwing her to the ground. It is then alleged that he picked up a 16-year-old girl who was walking with Mrs. West, carried the girl behind bushes and attempted to molest her.

The girl's father arrived and rescued her, it is alleged. West was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor in a complaint signed by the girl's father and on a battery complaint filed by his ex-wife.

Poetry course

Peter Simpson, lecturer in humanities, will teach an advanced course in poetry at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall.

The course will deal with major poets today. Students will have an opportunity to bring their own work to class for discussion and will be advised on how to get their poetry published.

Requirements for the course in poetry are junior level standing or consent of the instructor.

audience was not permitted. In fact, all had to remain in their seats at the time Ford entered and left the ballroom.

But even in the tense atmosphere, the throng seemed to "take" to Ford.

Most were seeing him in person for the first time and a frequently heard comment was, "He reminds you of Eisenhower." It takes little imagination to find a facial similarity between the two.

But the similarity goes beyond the physical. Ford has a speaking style reminiscent of the late President.

His speech also reminded one of some of those given by Mr. Eisenhower on the Illinois campaign trail and elsewhere.

Speaking prior to his decision to halt impeachment took, Ford basically took the middle ground. He talked carefully about Watergate, backed the innocence of the President, rather than to the man who holds the office.

One also sensed that the GOP partisans also recognized in the vice president a leader who could bring the party back together, help reduce disaster in the November races and even have the potential of retaining the White House for the year 1976.

Although Ford was addressing an audience of predominantly rock-ribbed, white-to-do Republicans, there was reason to believe that his honest-faced, Eisenhower type image would not appeal to an American electorate increasingly yearning for calm and stability.

It was significant, too, that Ford's reference in his speech to other Republicans considered potential nominees did not invoke any undue enthusiasm for any of them.

The biggest response came for California Gov. Ronald Reagan — no surprise, considering the conservative nature of the audience. There was only a smattering of applause for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

As part of the Illinois unity effort, Ford was slated next to Sen. Charles H. Percy. Ford's comment that Percy had the ability to serve as President drew only limited praise and a few scattered boos.

One sensed a final feeling that President Nixon might have to go, and that with Gerald Ford ready to replace him, this might well be in the Republican party's best interest.

Zoning Committee, moved that the matter be referred to the plan commission. The motion was approved.

The other annexation request, also referred later to the plan commission, were filed by Sam and Rose Caruso asking annexation of their property at 215 Pine St. and by Henry Kernerly, who said that his property at 3288 Kilmer Drive was inadvertently omitted from recent annexation procedures that included all properties on his side of the street except his.

The three annexation petitions are expected to be considered by the City Plan Commission in its regular meeting Thursday, Aug. 15, at the City offices, 2301 Adams St., at 1:15 p.m.

The commission also is scheduled to consider two cases carried over from the July meeting. These include a request by Steve Henke, 2315 Grand Ave., for a special use permit instead of the present R-3 zoning classification for operation of a hobby shop, and a request by Mr. Rosemary Fyles, 1661 Maple St., for a special use permit instead of the present R-4 zoning classification, for operation of a beauty shop.

Three new cases also are scheduled for hearing in the Aug. 15 meeting, including a request by Richard Kismar for a special use permit at 1907 Johnson Road for professional offices.

The other cases include a request by Thomas Hurdley for a special use permit at 3026 and 3030 N. Main St. as an auto sales unit, and a request by Mrs. Karen Teller for a rezoning to R-4 classification, from R-3, for operation of a child care center.

plans for construction of the soybean plant.

While the company has made no announcement of its investment in the construction work and acquisition of the property, Randall said that the "sales value" of the ADM plant and elevator is "well in excess of $10 million."

He said the plant is expected to have a "tremendous impact on the economy of the Quad-City area, particularly to the farmers."

Randall described the facility as "an average-size soybean crushing plant," and noted that it is a highly automated process with much of the processing equipment located out of doors. The latest in pollution control equipment has been installed, he said.

In addition to the plant construction, ADM has built and financed a three-mile section of sanitary sewers which increases capacity of the city sewer along the Nameki Ditch between St. Clair Avenue and Victory Drive.

ADM paid for the sewer construction at a cost of approximately $200,000 under an agreement with Granite City which provides that the city will be provided for a number of residents in the vicinity of the newly constructed line. It has been estimated the new line and its eventual connection with the new secondary sewage treatment plant will provide service for approximately 300 homes.

In the early phases of construction, ADM annexed all of the plant and elevator property to the city of Granite City.

Although the company has announced it is studying the possible expansion of the grain elevator from its present 2.8-million bushel capacity, Randall said that a proposal to build four grain silos at the Tri-City Regional Port "is a dead issue, at least for the time being."

He said that project has been abandoned "because of complications."

Plans by ADM for construction of the new soybean facility on Cargill Road followed a shutdown of operations by Corn Sweeteners, Inc., of the former Marshall Division of Miles Laboratories plant in Granite City.

Corn Sweeteners operated that plant from April through October in 1972, but it was closed when found to be economically unfeasible to operate.

ADM purchased the plant in February 1973 at the time it bought the grain elevator on Cargill Road.

George Knecht, Collinsville, secretary of Local 67 of the United Steelworkers, was elected by Tri-City Trades and Labor Council Wednesday night as its community services representative to the United Way.

The selection was made on a recommendation by the council's Community Services Committee headed by James Arnett.

Knecht was named to the position to succeed Robert McCormick, who submitted his retirement resignation earlier this year.

Knecht is being recommended by the Trades and Labor Council to the Tri-Cities Area United Way for the Marquette post of AFL-CIO community services officer.

too low in others, and should be revised.

For example, council members were told, there are some zones in which the cab fare comes to $1.45 for a distance of four or five blocks, while in other instances a passenger may travel "clear across the city" for 65 cents.

Elimination of these inequities would encourage greater use of taxi cabs and thus promote better service and equipment by the cab companies, the operators said.

A city ordinance controlling taxi cab operation is now being revised by City Attorney George Filcoff and is scheduled for council action soon, according to Alderman Morlen, chairman of the Traffic Committee.

Morlen introduced the letter from the two cab firm operators and said his committee will study the problem and report back to the council.

Moher's Traffic Committee also was requested to update the city's bicycle control ordinance which establishes regulations and rules for bicycle riders.

Alderman Coleman noted that the city's present bicycle ordinance was enacted in August 1941 and that it is outmoded by today's traffic conditions.

"I don't know what good it will do to change the ordinance unless it is enforced," Morlen commented. "Bicycle riders don't seem to pay any attention to the rules we already have. They don't stop at traffic signs and they ignore traffic rules."

Coleman, however, emphasized the need of greater control of bike riders. "We have a lot of bikes on the street and we are going to have to have to enforce some strict regulations," he added.

Alderman R. E. Robertson asked that when the Traffic Committee begins work on a revised bicycle control ordinance that it put some teeth in regulations for use of lights on bicycles. He said he has received many complaints about riders of bikes without lights at night.

tax rates to be at their maximum authorized levels.

The 1953 bond issue has now been retired, and the school system became a part of the Belleville Area College district Aug. 1, he noted. The retirement fund rate is, in effect, determined by the state government.

Comptroller Victor G. Anderson said the tentative budget was prepared on the basis of presently known information, combined with guidelines set by discussion with the board and administrators.

"It should provide those items essential to the continued operation of a sound educational program," he commented.

"The district has now operated from July 1, 1963, through June 30, 1974, without issuing tax anticipation warrants—an 11-year span.

"In the spring of 1975, if our taxes come in as early as they did this year, we may go for one more year without borrowing for operating costs. Changes during the year, of course, could alter the picture."

Those attending included Mr. and Mrs. David Bean of Kankakee, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Loman of St. Charles, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Don Davis and daughter, Beverly, of Mount Vernon; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dorch and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Howard and Gina Ann, all of Granite City.

Mrs. Broyles Hosts Rainy Suez Club

Mrs. Lucille Broyles, 2030 McCasland Ave., Madison, entertained the Rainy Suez Card Club Monday evening in her home.

Those excelling in the pinocchio games and winning prizes were Mrs. Evelyn Ferro, Mrs. Alyne Graham, Mrs. Carol Broyles and a guest, Mrs. Mary Adams.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ferro, 2520 Delmar Ave. Others attending were Mrs. Pat Petrosky, Mrs. Pat Lee and Mrs. Mary Allen.

Nameoki Presbyterian services

"God or Good Luck" will be the theme of the morning message in the "50-Minute Family Summer Worship Service" at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, at 10:45 a.m. Sunday. The soloist for the service will be Mrs. Rogers Mafford, according to the pastor, the Rev. Don F. Pierson.

Elkettes plan future projects

A salad smorgasbord was served preceding a meeting of the Elkettes on Tuesday evening at the Granite City Elks Lodge.

Mrs. Catherine Pomeroy, vice-president, presided and announced Mrs. Helen Todd will serve as chairman of an auction planned for September.

Other projects discussed include a rummage sale next month and a public spaghetti supper on Oct. 12.

Those winning prizes during the social hour were Cecelia Cruse, Elmina Trachsel, Helen Schmeisser, Kay Taylor, Wilma Russell, Catherine Michel, Diane Warnhoff, Dorothy Shabo, Elvera Thurber, Sandy Shaw and Ann Wilson. Mrs. Wilson is the daughter-in-law of Mrs. Charles Gandoria and is visiting here with her husband and children from Colorado Springs, Colo.

LUNCHBOX LOOTED

Clarence Jahn of Columbia, Ill., reported Monday that his wallet was stolen last week from a lunchbox while he was at the Cargill Elevators, 3601 Cargill Road. The wallet contained $35 cash and credit cards. A missing credit card was used to purchase tires late last week in Edwardsville, the owner said.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY C. GANTT. They will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary at an open house from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in the Fellowship Hall at Tri-City Park Tabernacle Church, Maryville Road and Clark Avenue. Relatives and friends are being invited to attend.

Henry C. Gantts to celebrate 60th year

The 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Gantt will be observed at an open house celebration from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in the Fellowship Hall at Tri-City Park Tabernacle Church, Maryville Road and Clark Avenue.

Relatives and friends are being invited to attend the observance, which is arranged in advance of the anniversary date to permit the attendance of out-of-town guests.

Mr. Gantt and his wife, the former Myra Potter, were married Sept. 11, 1914, in Leona, Mo. They have lived in the Quad-City area for 50 years, and presently are residing at 2933 Wayne Ave.

Most of his working life was spent by Mr. Gantt at Granite City Steel where he retired in 1963 after 40 years service. He was active in union affairs and assisted in the merger of Local 11 with Local 30 of the United Steelworkers of America.

Mr. Gantt also is a past president of the Granite City Steel Employees Credit Union in which he played an active role for many years.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gantt are longtime members of City Temple, where the former served as Sunday school superintendent and a church deacon.

Mrs. Gantt was born in Stoddard County, Mo. Her husband is a native of Waverly, Tenn. They are the parents of six children.

Their sons are Barry Gantt of Richardson, Tex.; Dale Gantt of Houston, Tex.; and Norman "Babe" Gantt of Mitchell. Their daughters are Mrs. Thomas (Arlene) Tucker of Collinsville, Mrs. David (Wanda) Short of Hubert, N.C., and Mrs. Harold (Charlotte) McKinney of Mitchell.

A daughter, Frieda, died in 1919 and a son, David, died in 1970.

The couple has 22 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Gantt are requesting no gifts be brought to the anniversary celebration.

Braves hoping for Lemay championship

The Granite City Braves baseball squad, runnersup this season to Belleville West in the Belleville Area Traveling League, resumed its winning ways Tuesday in the Lemay, Mo., Association tournament by defeating the Brentwood Comets 7-5 in semifinal action.

Now 24-12 on the season, the Braves advance to tomorrow's finals at Heine-Meine Park to meet the Southside Raiders at 6:15 p.m. Randy Lyerla will carry his 7-2 pitching record into that game.

The Braves struck for a run in the second inning against the Comets. Jim Jackson singled and advanced to third on Tim Luehmann's hit. Davis Davig, the winning hurler, singled Jackson home.

The lead was short-lived as the Comets came back to tie the score at 1-1 in their half of the inning.

The third inning spelled disaster for the Comets as the Braves scored four times on hits by Larry Schleicher and Tom Manogian intermingled with walks and two Comet errors.

State softball semifinals games

The Granite City Merchants and Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307 head into Saturday's semifinal round of competition in the Illinois Amateur Softball Association state tournament with hopes of staying alive in the Men's Class AA slow-pitch double-elimination title chase.

Last weekend, the Merchants captured a first round game and then fell into a lower bracket at Rock Island after losing to Post 307.

The Merchants advanced to the semifinals by defeating the Dale Campbell Agency.

Post 307 remained in the unbeaten bracket after sweeping three contests.

The V-M squad will meet Knoxville, Ill., at 7:15 p.m. Saturday in upper bracket competition and the Merchants are to play at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Commanding a 5-1 lead, the local squad allowed the enemy a run in the fourth and then put the game on ice in the seventh. Davis and Rich Schmidt singled.

Ed Schmidt hit a hot grounder that was thrown away at first, allowing Davis to score. The Schmidt brothers then executed a double steal that saw Rich Schmidt cross the plate.

Before meeting the Raiders for the Lemay championship tomorrow, the Braves will play host to East St. Louis today in a 6 p.m. contest at Wilson Park.

On Saturday, at Wilson Park, the Braves and Missouri's defending state champion, the Southwest Kiwanis Pros, will meet at 6 p.m.

The Pros, owner of a 54-15 record thus far, are composed of top 16-17-year-old ball players in the St. Louis area who tour the United States and Canada every summer for a 70 or 80-game schedule.

Students attend SIU music camp

Patty Bade, Steve Boston, Darrell Cook, David Epping, Jeri Johnson and Mary Jubass, all of Granite City, were among the 167 teenage musicians enrolled in the 13th annual Music and Youth at Southern summer music camp at SIU at Carbondale.

The group from 67 schools throughout Illinois and some from Arkansas and Missouri, studied and practiced during the day and participated in a public concert with guest conductors Robert Fuller, chorus, John Svoboda, orchestra, and Irene Simpson, band. Fuller and Simpson are from Jonesboro, Ark. Svoboda from Downers Grove.

Faculty members of the SIU School of Music are conducting instruction in piano, acoustics, percussion, piano, strings, woodwinds, brass, and voice.

guaranteed belted retreads $15

B.F. Goodrich belted passenger retreads are built on sound, factory inspected tire bodies. They'll give a smooth, comfortable ride and good mileage.

Retread Guarantee: Any passenger retread tire when used in a normal passenger car or truck is guaranteed throughout the life of the original tread against failure due to defective workmanship and materials, and against failure caused by road hazards, which in our opinion render the tire unserviceable.

This guarantee does not apply to retreads with separate punctures, torn irregular wear, tire damaged by running flat for long periods, collisions, sharp cuts or obstructions on the road surface, nor does it apply to tires which are used on vehicles other than a passenger automobile or a passenger truck. Any qualified retread which fails due to an adjustable condition and is presented to a B.F. Goodrich store or authorized dealer for replacement by its owner, shall be adjusted properly and in the same manner as a new tire, according to tread wear and compared on current exchange price for the same size and type passenger tire retread.

Tragedy again strikes Chapman family

Tragedy struck the Ralph Chapman family again last week when a second son was seriously injured in a tractor mishap which may leave him handicapped for life.

The Chapmans reside at Wilcoxville, near Staunton, Ill. The mother is the former Miss Pat Ruemmler of Granite City. Among the local relatives are the Chapman's eldest son, Ralph Jr., an aunt, Mrs. Nina Oliver, and a step great-grandfather, Tom Biggs.

The Press-Record carried an account in its July 11 issue concerning the Chapman's younger son, David, 12, who had entered Shriner's hospital, St. Louis, to undergo surgery for the 12th time in less than three years. The boy expressed the hope of receiving cards during his lengthy hospital stay.

The family's latest tragic happening occurred last Wednesday when Christ, 15, was assisting his father on a tractor at the farm.

The youth apparently slipped from the machine and was run over by a large metal disc at the rear of the tractor, severely cutting his left leg from the ankle to the thigh and severing the end of the big toe.

Mrs. Oliver said the disc sliced into the leg to a depth of 1 1/2 inches beyond the bone, tearing nerves and muscles.

Medical authorities have not yet determined whether the leg can be saved, the aunt said. She reported the attending physician has informed the family that a period of 18 months will be necessary before deciding if the leg can be fitted with a brace.

Christ is a patient in Room 202 at Carlinville Area Hospital, Carlinville, Ill. He would have started his sophomore year this fall at Gillespie High School.

Mrs. Oliver noted the youth recently purchased 100 chickens as part of a 4-H club project, and planted a garden on the family's one-acre tract. She said several of his friends from the 4-H club have rallied around to help take care of the baby chicks and garden.

David, who remains at Shriner's Hospital, will undergo another operation on Tuesday, Aug. 13, the same day he will celebrate his 13th birthday.

"He is a victim of Perthes' disease, a bone ailment more frequently found in children of a younger age. The disease was first diagnosed in the boy just 2 1/2 years ago."

The most recent surgery involved shortening the left leg by two inches, his aunt explained. The right hip-high socket already is fused and immobile, she said, and for a period of nine months David was encased in a cast from the shoulder to his knees.

In spite of his many bouts with surgery, including three operations last October, David received his 8th grade graduation certificate along with his classmates in June. He has been tutored by a homebound teacher since his ordeal began.

Mrs. Oliver said that both boys will require homebound tutoring services, special beds and wheelchairs when released from the hospital.

"It is going to be very difficult for 'y sister to handle the boys who they do come home," Mrs. Oliver said. She explained that Mrs. Chapman wears a leg brace as a result of an attack of polio in 1967. The father is partially disabled with a back ailment, she said.

"David keeps a scrapbook of all the cards he receives and is very proud of it," the aunt said. "He would like to hear from anyone who cares to write," she added.

Well cards and letters may be sent to: David Chapman, Ward A, Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children, 2001 S. Lindbergh Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., 63131.

Christ Chapman, Room 202, Carlinville Area Hospital, Carlinville, Ill.

Course on retail marketing changes

Belleville Area College will offer a short course in "adapting to changing retail market needs."

It is the fourth in a series of five short courses developed in conjunction with businessmen in the BAC district and co-sponsored by the Small Business Administration.

The course will provide an opportunity for participants to discuss common problems, ask questions, receive relevant material and identify other sources of information.

The course will be taught by Tom Andes, who has related work and education credentials. He will be supplemented by experts in specific areas.

The class will meet on four consecutive Thursday evenings from 7 to 9:45, starting Sept. 19 and ending Oct. 10.

Persons interested may register on Sept. 19, the first evening of the class, at 7 o'clock in Room M1 at Althoff High School in Belleville. At that time, tuition in the amount of $8 will be collected.

Topics included in the course

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

are: marketing research, service business pricing, merchandise pricing, buying of merchandise and merchandise control.

In addition to this course, a short course on special aspects of small business management will be offered by BAC. It also will be four weeks long and will meet on Thursdays from 7 to 9:45 p.m. at Althoff High in Room M1.

Special aspects of small business management will begin Oct. 17 and end Nov. 7.

Expect high school football will be safer, more exciting

Several major changes in high school football rules are expected to add to the excitement of the games, and yet provide additional protection from injury.

Among the major changes effective with the start of practice Aug. 19 are:

1) Most Illinois conferences have adopted the tiebreaker plan to be used in the football playoff series to allow the league championship to be won on the playing field.

Briefly, if the two teams play to a tie score at the end of the regulation four quarters, a "sudden death overtime" will follow.

Each team will have the opportunity to score from the 10-yard line in a series of four (or less) plays. And the team that outgains the opponent in the "overtime" period will be declared the winner of the game.

For example, if Team A is on offense to begin the "overtime" and scores, regardless of the number of allotted downs it needs to score, Team B will have four downs (or less) to either score enough points to tie again or to win.

If Team B does not score enough points to tie or surpass Team A, then Team A will win the game.

If Team B scores more points (a touchdown and extra point compared to a touchdown only on a field goal), then it is the winner.

If both teams score equal points in the first exchange of downs, the procedure is repeated until a winner is determined.

2) Blocking below the waist will be prohibited during kicking plays after the ball has been kicked.

"This significant change has been instituted to expand the protection against knee injury that has been ongoing at the high school level for several years," a spokesman said.

On kickoff, no member of the team receiving the ball may block below the waist on the line of scrimmage until the ball is kicked, and members of the team receiving the punt may not block below the waist on the return.

3) In an effort to allow teams the opportunity to "become accustomed" to their "own" ball, to ease the potential strain financially of the cost of equipment for a school, and to eliminate cause for undue delays in administration of the game, each team may use a football of its choice, which meets rules specifications, during the time it is on offense.

Legality of the footballs to be used by the competing teams will be determined before the game by the referee.

4) Any player on either team may request a charged timeout for his team. Previously, this privilege was limited to captains or specifically designated players.

5) The delay of game penalty has been expanded to provide for penalty if a player is not properly wearing a required player equipment when a free kick or snap is about to occur.

6) A timeout may be charged to a team when a player is substituted and then replaced, or a player is replaced but the game when the ball is dead.

This change allows a team the opportunity to correct an error substituting, but the team must "buy" the correction with a charged timeout.

7) When a team is to receive a punt, only the player who signals for a fair catch and catches the football will be protected from contact.

8) The referee is now designated as the person responsible for keeping the official score.

9) Beginning in 1975, teams will be required to purchase only helmets approved by the National Operating Committee of Safety of Athletic Equipment (NOCSAE), and by the 1978 season, all players will be required to wear only helmets bearing the seal of NOCSAE.

Beginning in 1978, interior linemen must wear numbers from 50-79, while receivers (backs and ends) must wear numbers from 1-49 and 80-99.

10) A race driver expressed the theory, "If the guard rail was two feet higher and set only three feet off the strip, instead of the eight to ten feet as it is now, I think this could have been prevented."

Under existing conditions at the racing plant south of Madison, if a vehicle leaves the asphalt track it strikes a grass-covered area and hits a light dip before reaching the guard railing.

"The bleachers need to be made higher and moved farther back from the track itself," said another experienced driver.

Tri-City Speedway on Nanticoke Road, a track for stock car racing, protects its racing fans with a four-foot-high concrete barrier and a ten-foot-high cyclone fence, with the grandstands well away from the track.

Indianapolis Motor Speedway increased the height of its front straightaway protecting wall and eliminated some seats in that particular section after a first lap accident sent burning fuel spewing into the crowd.

One possible answer in preventing a re-occurrence is to install redirecting cushions along the track for the large angle impact guard rails, as was suggested recently at a safety seminar of the International Motor Press Association of New Jersey.

The rubber barriers in this type of installation would serve much in the same manner as a trampoline does for a gymnast athlete — bouncing the vehicle back toward the direction of the spectators.

Or the installation of additional chain link fence might "do the job." It would function for a head-on, high angle impact.

Whatever the remedy, it had better be found in the near future.

The sport of drag racing has come a long way in proving to the public that it is a high caliber profession.

A repeat of Sunday's mishap could well mean the tearing down of what thousands of persons involved with the sport have fought for such a long time in bringing drag racing to what it is today.

Drag strip safety upgrading essential

From a race course in Le Mans, France, to the famed Indianapolis Motor Speedway, the dragstrips of America, death has always been a potential passenger with the driver of a racing car.

This special breed of athlete knows that the key to his safety depends not only on his skills and good judgment, but also on the construction of the machine he is driving.

Richard Petty, the most successful stock car driver on the national circuit today, has revealed what he believes to be the secret of safety in racing: "A well designed roll cage. Steel bars in the doors. A steel cage above, below and behind the driver, plus a real good system of belts."

"I drive more miles on the race track these days than I do on the highway," I swear, the race track miles are safer, mostly because the cars are safer and drivers are better."

Safety on the race track, Professor Kelly Chadwick — a school teacher from Texas turned drag racer — means "construction of the vehicle."

"I've seen many a driver crawl out of his race car and walk away because the car's designer put safety first above anything else."

"The greatest fear a drag racer has," added Chadwick, "is fire, and now, with built-in fire extinguishing equipment, that fear is a great deal less than it was several years ago."

This weekend during the Gateway Nationals at St. Louis International Raceway, the life of California pro-stock drag racer Bill Bagshaw was saved in a fiery crash that claimed the lives of two spectators as it left the track and plummeted into the bleachers filled with people.

Larry Huff, who went on to win the Pro Stock title here when the racing resumed, inspected Bagshaw's demolished vehicle at the scene of the crash.

Huff said the only reason Bagshaw was not killed was the roll cage.

"The roll cage and the driver's seat were intact," Huff said. "They did their job."

An eyewitness to the tragedy Sunday said that Bagshaw's auto, traveling about 100 miles per hour, swerved, several times. The driver tried to regain control, but he was unable to keep the auto away from the right side retaining rail.

The car struck the steel rail, and bounced upward into the bleachers area.

"The rear quarter-panel cut into the top of the chain link fence in front of the crowd," another witness said, adding that "the fence just brought the car down on the top of the crowd."

For Bill Bagshaw, who suffered serious injuries, the construction of his racing car did its job.

But for the two young persons who lay dead and the many injured, there is no immediate answer as to what was supposed to "do the job" for them, only speculation.

The answer cannot be the exclamation that was given by an official of the American Hot Rod Association, the sanctioning body, that "in 20 years of its existence we have never had a car go into the spectators or had any spectators killed."

Quad-City teams in 3A, 4A, 5A classifications of state's first high school football playoffs

The first symptoms of "November nonsense" are expected to be recognized in communities throughout the state Friday, Sept. 6, when many of the 325 football-playing schools of the Illinois High School Association open their 1974 regular seasons.

Like its winter cousin, "March madness," it should spread rapidly as the schools enter conference play and—for the first time in the 82-year history of the IHSA — begin battling for a spot in the pairings in one of five classes in the state football playoff series.

"Based on the reaction we have received from school administrators, coaches and Illinois high school football fans, the enthusiasm and interest in our playoff system is pleasantly refreshing," IHSA Executive Secretary Harry Fitzgugh says.

"We are hopeful the football playoffs will be as successful from all standpoints as our 10 other athletic programs for the first time in the state's history."

Although pairings in each of the five classes (based on enrollment) will not be made until the conclusion of regular season play the weekend of Nov. 12, the outcome of conference games during the regular season will determine the nucleus of playoff participants in each class.

Champions of each of the 65 football conferences throughout the state earn berths in the 16-team class brackets.

"Three at large" entrants, coming from the ranks of independents, conference co-champions or conference runners-up, also will be selected in each of the five classifications.

Member schools in a given conference are assigned to a class based on the average conference enrollment.

Dividing the total number of football players in the state (65) by the classes (5) determines what classification the conference will be in during the football season.

For 1974, there are 107 Class 1A schools, 89 Class 2A schools, 102 Class 3A schools, 96 Class 4A schools, 98 Class 5A schools and 37 independent schools.

In addition, two schools — Cairo and East Dubuque — will not compete in the playoffs because their schedules do not meet minimum eligibility requirements.

The conferences by classification are (with spread in average conference enrollments):

CLASS 1A (136 to 318) — Little Elgin (Northwest), Western Area Conference, Meridian, Versailles Valley, Upstate Illinois, MSM (Morgan-Sangamon-Macoupin), Little Okaw Valley, Big County, East Central, Little Eight (North Central), Blackhawk, Mid-State (Mid-Central), and Little Illinois.

CLASS 2A (325 to 502) — Sangamon Valley, Northwestern Illinois, Corn Belt, West Central, Mid-Northern, Little Six, Southern Illinois, Spoon River, South Central, Big River Valley, Illowa, Waukesha, and Illinois.

CLASS 3A (504 to 1121) — Northstar, Sharp, Southwestern Egyptian, West Suburban Catholic, Kankakee Valley, Private School League, Mid-State (South Central), North Egypt, Heart of Illinois, Apollo, NCIC-Southwest, Little Seven, and Northwest Suburban.

CLASS 4A (1150 to 2182) — South Seven, Mississippi Valley, SICA-South, Mid State Nine, Tri-County, Northwest, O'Hare Suburban, Capitol, Big 12, North Suburban, SICA-East, Illinois 8, and Big Nine.

CLASS 5A (2244 to 4115) — Mid-Suburban, East Suburban Catholic, Upstate Eight, Central Suburban South, Chicago Catholic League, Central Suburban North, Des Plaines Valley, SICA-West, Southwestern, Western Big Six, West Suburban, SICA-North, and Suburban League.

In order to qualify as a conference champion, a team must play a minimum of eight games by the first Saturday of November.

Of these eight games, five must be against teams within a school's conference.

Conference champions automatically qualify for berth in the playoffs. In the event of co-champions, a conference will select its representative.

Independents, plus co-champions not selected as a conference's representative, and runners-up with winning percentages of 80 per cent or better will be given consideration for the "at large" berths, which will be filled by the IHSA office staff in Bloomington.

First round games in each of the five classes will be played Wednesday, Nov. 6, either at 2 or 7 p.m., depending on agreement between the competing schools and the facility of the host school.

Quarterfinal games are scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 9. The semifinal games are set for 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 16.

In all preliminary games, one of the competing schools will host the playoff contest.

State Legion title contest

Highland, which best Carlyle 8-4 for the Illinois Fifth Division American Legion baseball title at Beckemeyer, will attempt to defend its state championship today at Rockford.

Highland has a 41-13 record this year.

The winner at Rockford will advance to a regional tournament at Stevens Point, Wis., Aug. 14-18.

Close competition in late model, sportsman class stock car races

Only six more weeks of late model and sportsman class stock car racing remain on the 1974 schedule at Tri-City Speedway here, and the battle for the track championships in both divisions has all the signs of being decided on closing night.

The top three drivers in each class are so close in the point standings heading into tomorrow evening's racing program that a change of positions in either would be of little significance at this time.

Perhaps the fact that the local speedway has suffered three rainouts this season partly accounts for the tightness of the point standings.

Only 170 points separate Missouri's Len Gittermeyer and defending track champion Vic Spaulding, who trails the late model point leader with 1,465.

Russ Wallace, Arnold, Mo., holds down the third spot with 1,385 points.

The match-up of races won by the three falls to reflect a full picture of how they reached their respective positions.

Spaulding has won four features, four trophy dashes and five heat races; Gittermeyer won two features, two dashes, and three heats; and Wallace won two features and seven heat races.

Each has not only captured races but has consistently earned points by placing well in events.

In sportsman class racing, the situation is almost identical, except that for the first time ever the point leader has yet to capture a feature race here.

St. Louisian John Wolfenbarger earned his 1,000 points by winning only three heat races but also garnering consistently strong finishes in other events.

Granite Cityan Jack Yates is second in the standings with 840 points and has captured more races than any other driver in his class.

Yates, a rookie driver, has three feature race victories and three heat race conquests under his belt.

Fellow Granite Cityan Rod Bailey, a second-year driver, is third with 780 points on the basis of one feature victory and two heat race wins.

With 120 points being awarded to the victor of feature races and 60 points to the winner of heat races, the point standings could change in both divisions tomorrow.

The stock car racing program will begin at 7 p.m. Friday with qualifying time trials for late model cars. Heat races for both classes will get under way at 8:30 p.m.

A special "powder puff" derby, consisting of 10 laps around the quarter-mile dirt oval for the ladies, is also included in the program.

McClure wins one for Texas

"These guys (motorcycle racers) are really good. You just have to go faster than they do to win."

Those words were spoken Tuesday evening by Texas Guy McClure, who had just vaulted into the point lead at Tri-City Speedway here after making a victory sweep of every event he entered that night.

The American Motorcycle Association sanctioned short-track cycle racing program was one of a weekly series at the 5100 Nameoki Road track.

Official point standings have not been released by track officials but it has been confirmed that McClure has a sizeable lead over Oklahoma's Randy Cleek in the race for the 1974 track championship.

McClure, presently classified by the AMA as the top junior class short-track rider in the nation, topped the Lone Star state's winning record at the local speedway to 7.5 when he captured his third consecutive — fourth of the season — main event.

The Texas rider and Cleek shared top honors in qualifying time trials as both toured the quarter-mile dirt oval in 15.37 seconds.

McClure then went on to win his heat race and a semifinal event, and led Cleek across the finish line in the 10-lap feature race.

Other race victors were: Cleek, 1st heat and 2nd semi; Phil McDonald, 3rd heat; Doug Ann, 4th heat; Larry Beall, 5th heat and 3rd semi; Ken Hapke, 6th heat; and Rob Reary, consolation event.

McClure entered Tuesday's program fresh from a victory at Dallas, Tex., and he will complete this weekend at Middletown, N.Y., before returning to the Quad-City area next Tuesday to participate in time trials at 7 p.m. He will try for victory number five when the racing gets under way here at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Accept tennis invitational entries

Entries are still being accepted by the Granite City Park District for its Invitational tennis tournament to be held Aug. 23-25 at Wilson Park and the Granite City High School South courts.

Persons planning to participate are being reminded by the park district that all entries must be submitted by noon Thursday, Aug. 22.

The event, sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis and Missouri Valley Tennis associations, allows entrants to participate in only three of 13 classes — junior boys' singles and doubles, boys' age 12 and under singles and doubles, boys'

14 and over singles and doubles, men's singles and doubles, senior men's singles, women's singles and doubles, and girls' 14 and over singles and doubles. Singles fees of $1 or doubles fees of $2.50 per player, per class, are to accompany each entry form mailed to Joe Papes, 2653 Center St.

Permits offered for deer hunting

Quad-City area hunters still may obtain deer hunting permits according to the Illinois Department of Conservation. The department announced that 19 counties in the state still have deer permits available. So far, 55,500 shotgun and 5,000 archery permits have been validated.

Counties having permits available are: DeKalb, Henry, Stark, Whiteside and Winnebago in Northern Illinois; Champaign, Douglas, Ford, Jersey, Menard, Mercer, Scott and Warren in the central region; and Edwards, Gallatin, Massac, South Pope, Pulaski and White in Southern Illinois.

The shotgun season runs Nov. 15-17 and Dec. 13-15, with the bow and arrow season Oct. 1-Dec. 31 in counties not having a gun season.

Registration tonight for 'Rascal' tackle football

Candidates for Granite City Little Rascal tackle football teams are being reminded to register tonight at an orientation clinic beginning at 8 o'clock at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues.

The clinic is being held to brief prospective players and their parents about the organization and its program.

All boys must turn in a registration form, completed and signed by a parent, and then was admitted after reporting pains in his right shoulder, hip, and lower back.

Levis Evans, 41, St. Louis, reported pains in his left forearm and wrist. He was released after treatment for an injury to a finger.

Two motorcycle racers were injured Tuesday during a weekly cycle racing program at Tri-City Speedway. Both were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Doubles victory

Granite Cityan Wilma Schuze teamed with Highland's Carry Itter to capture first place this week in women's tennis doubles at a MacClair Tennis Association tournament held at Edwardsville.

The two defeated the team of Venice's Jane Sheldon and Edwardsville's Sarah Blair 6-4, 4-6, 6-2 to take top honors in the women's competition.

WE WANT TO SELL CARS. YOU WANT TO SAVE MONEY. IT'S THAT SIMPLE.

Right now, many Chevrolet dealers are offering year-end savings on in-stock Impalas, Chevelles, Novas and Vegas.

Impala is America's lowest priced popular full-size car.
(Based on manufacturer's suggested retail prices.)

Impala, America's best-selling full-size car. It has the room, ride and comfort you want in a family-size car. And Impala's traditionally high resale value has helped it earn its nickname—The Great American Value.

Chevelle is a whole family of mid-size, mid-price cars.
Chevelle. Nine mid-size, mid-price models to choose from. All agile enough for easy handling and parking, yet large enough for six adults.

Nova is Chevy's sensible, economical compact.

Arts, crafts fair Saturday, Sunday

The University Center Board of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will sponsor a national Arts and Crafts Fair in conjunction with the Mississippi River Festival Aug. 10-11.

Thirty-five groups and individuals from across the nation will exhibit and demonstrate handcrafted materials.

The craftsman coming from the greatest distance to the fair will be a pewsmith from Connecticut. A Pennsylvanian who makes folk instruments also will exhibit.

Crafts on display and for sale will include handcrafted pottery, macramé, bakits and prints, leather goods, figurines and metal and silver works.

The national arts and crafts fair will be open from 12 noon until 6 p.m. on Saturday and from noon until 5 p.m. on Sunday. During those hours, admission is free.

From then on, a ticket to that night's Mississippi River Festival performance is necessary to visit the fair.

Located inside the gates of the MRF site, the fair will be open during the concert intermission both nights.

DRIER BELT IGNITES

Parents of gifted form steering unit

A group of "concerned and interested" parents met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fitter Tuesday to discuss the need for "a formal, recognized parents' association for education of gifted and talented students in the Granite City area."

A steering committee, composed of the following tentative positions and officers, was established to formulate workable plans and concepts: Acting chairman, Don Conley; acting vice-chairman, Ed Fitter; acting secretary, Mrs. Lois King; acting treasurer, Mrs. Joyce Conley; acting community resources chairmen, legislative chairman and scholarship chairman, Eric Toht.

Acting program chairman, Mrs. Lois Fitter; acting fundraising chairman, Mrs. Conley; acting publicity chairman, Mrs. Lana Rogier; and acting membership chairman, Mrs. Lois Pulley.

The next steering committee meeting will be held Aug. 16 at 7:30 p.m. Those interested in the association may contact Don Conley at 876-3806 or Ed Fitter at 876-7256, a spokesman said.

Mrs. Fryntzko at convention

Mrs. Agnes Fryntzko, principal of Parkview School, is attending the biennial convention of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, an international honor organization for women educators, in Seattle, Wash., Aug. 4-11.

Among the 2,500 delegates are representatives from Canada, Mexico, Norway, Sweden and Finland.

Site of the convention is the Seattle Center, scene of the 1962 World's Fair. Special events take delegates to the Pacific Science Center, the Space Needle and other points of interest.

"The Woman Educator in Changing Times," is the focus of study, examining present status, goals and roles as agents of change.

A major project of the Society is its scholarship program. Eighteen grants of $2,500 each have just been awarded to outstanding women educators for a advanced study. A program of fellowships for foreign women to study in this country has trained leaders in education overseas.

The Delta Kappa Gamma Society is the largest organization of professional women educators in the world. Its honorary members include Dr. Margaret Mead, anthropologist; Miss Pauline Frederick, television news reporter; and Senator Margaret Chase Smith. The late Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Pearl Buck, author, also were members.

The current president is Mrs. Paul Emmmons, Raleigh, N.C. Mrs. Fryntzko is a member of the Alpha Eta Chapter and currently is president of the local chapter.

New Mexico church scene of Cable-Simms wedding

Miss Mary Ann Simms, a daughter of Mrs. Louise Simms of Clovis, N.M., and the late L. D. Manzy Simms, and Airman Kenneth Cable, son of Mr. and Mrs. Viri M. Cable, 2516 E. 26th St., were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony on July 12 at the 16th and Pile Street Church of Christ in Clovis.

The Rev. Derrell McGlathery of San Antonio, Tex., officiated at the service before an altar decorated with urns of white gladioli and daisies.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, J. Simms. She chose a gown of Cluny lace featuring Victorian sleeves, accented with a lace, and an insertion ribbon V design on the bodice. Lace and ribbon trim formed the high collar and the cuffs of the long sleeves.

Her A-line skirt was designed with a cathedral train and a Juliet cap of Cluny lace held in place an elbow length veil. She carried a nosegay of white stephanotis and rosebuds.

Gayle Perryman of Vernon, Tex., served as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Roxie Johnson, Rene Snipes and Judith Cox, all of Clovis.

They were dressed in Empire style gowns of dotted swiss in blue, yellow, green and pink. The flower girls, Rachel Lopez and Debbie McAlister, wore identically designed frocks in orchid.

Each girl wore a white garden hat and carried a nosegay of daisies enhanced with ribbons to match her dress.

Randy Cable of Paragould, Ark., a brother of the groom, served as best man. Tony and Kevin Cable, brothers of the groom, both of Granite City, and Dale Burgess of Clovis were groomsmen.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Simms chose a long blue voile dress with an eyelid bodice. The groom's mother was attired in a mint green formal length gown embellished with small pink flowers. Each wore a corsage of white daisies.

Guests were registered by Peggy McBride. Serving as ushers were Ken Barnett, Ray Graham, Monty Newman and Larry Barnett.

As the bride approached the altar, Clayton Fuchs sang "Almost There." "The Wedding Song" was sung by Monty and Mickey Newman.

As the couple were lighting the unity candle, they sang "The Twelfth of Never."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall, with Mickey Newman, Vicki Newman and Linda D'Amour assisting.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Clovis High School and serves as church secretary.

A 1971 graduate of Granite City High School, the groom presently is stationed at Cannon AFB.

After a honeymoon trip to northern New Mexico, they will reside at 6 Sparrow Court in Clovis.

NEWLYWEDS: Airman and Mrs. Kenneth Cable, whose wedding took place at the 16th and Pile Street Church of Christ in Clovis, N.M. The former Miss Mary Ann Simms, the bride is a daughter of Mrs. Louise Simms of Clovis and the late L. D. Manzy Simms.

Demo ladies plan fish fry

The annual fish fry and barbecue sponsored by the Madison Ladies Democrat Club will be held Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on the parking lot at Schermer's Market in Madison, according to Mrs. Minnie Brown, chairman of the event.

Mrs. Brown reviewed plans for the project at a meeting of the club Monday night at the Sportsman's Club.

Mrs. Maxine Costoff presided, leading the group in the pledge of allegiance, followed by prayer offered by Mrs. Gisella Gott.

A fund-raising program to be held in conjunction with the weekend activity also was discussed by Mrs. Mary Rogenski and Mrs. Georgia Graham.

The president announced seven tickets have been purchased for members to attend the Madison County Democrat day in Springfield on Aug. 15. Mrs. Costoff and Mrs. Graham reported a new club project to raise funds, for which they will serve as co-chairmen. Democrat donkey pins will be sold. Anyone interested in purchasing the pins may contact any member.

Mrs. Costoff informed the members the September meeting has been changed to Sept. 9 due to the Labor Day holiday.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Rogenski, Mrs. Elizabeth Yankoff and Mrs. Bonnie Dillon.

The secretaries report was submitted by Mrs. Winnie Sasyk. Mrs. Christine Green gave the treasurer's resume.

Others present were Elizabeth Wisnick, Mary Krekovich, Lee Krpan, Vera Sikora, Rose Rodgers, Cora Barry, Ida Dant, Sue Miller, Ann Bialzak, Julia Goclan, Ann Gavinski, LaVerne Harris and Jo Ann Wilkins.

Illinois fair opens Friday

The 1974 Illinois State Fair will get a tumultuous send-off as the traditional opening day parade and the ribbon-cutting ceremony mark Friday as the first day of the new Illinois State Fair in Springfield.

But this year's fair was to get into the swing of things a few days before the Governor's season since the ribbon, officially opening the gates to the 30-day spectacular.

Among the pre-fair events were the closed judging of livestock and culinary exhibits yesterday and today. Vegetable, fruit and grain exhibits were to be judged today as well as the hobby show.

The Illinois State Fair amateur photography contest officially began Wednesday and will end at 3 p.m., Aug. 11. Because of the large number of entrants for the society horse show, several different breeds and classifications were shown yesterday and today.

On the morning of the first day of the fair tomorrow the opening day parade will start things off with one of the largest parade spectacles with 166 units, "promising to be one of the largest that Central Illinois has ever seen," according to John Whitney, parade director.

The parade is divided into six general categories: clowns, floats, celebrities, special features, equestrian, and bands. "We have entries from throughout the Midwest," said Whitney, "and we believe that the parade features the diversity and entertainment which a truly excellent parade requires."

Floating sponsors include the Eastman Kodak Co.; J. C. Penney, Inc.; Rust-O-Leum, and Pabst Beer, as well as sponsors from various Illinois cities, agencies, and organizations. Granite City is to have a float in the parade. The Bill Troer Clown Band and many other clowns will entertain children of all ages, while the 40-man Indiana Voluntary Regiment, complete with Union military regalia, and mule-drawn cannon, mess, ambulance, and supply wagons provide a living display of American history.

And what is a parade without music? Well, not a parade, so 42 high school marching bands from across the state have been selected to provide musical entertainment. The Madison High School band is included. The Air National Guard, Fort Leonard Wood, and Chanute Air Force Base marching bands also will appear.

Celebrities will include Gov. Dan Walker, and Grand Marshals, actor Andy Devine and Chicago Fire Football Executive Vice-president Al Lange. Also in attendance will be the mayors of 12 Illinois cities which have hosted the fair in the past, and the Dukes of Dixieland. Stage coaches, antique autos, Indian dancers and a host of other special features will round out the assembly, fulfilling the parade theme, "Fair of Fairs."

After the two-hour parade ends at Washington St., dignitaries and fair officials will gather at the main gate of the Fairgrounds, Ninth St. and Sangamon Ave., at 12:30 p.m. Gov. and Mrs. Walker will be present. Mrs. Walker will begin the ceremony as she receives roses from Miss Illinois State Fair, Miss Illinois and Miss Black Illinois look on.

Venice Council backs Welfare Rights plea

The Venice City Council at its Tuesday evening meeting approved a resolution favoring establishment of a food stamp center in the Quad-City area.

A delegation from the Madison County Welfare Rights Organization explained to the council that 2,000 families representing in excess of 7,000 local persons presently must travel to East St. Louis at least once a month for their food stamps.

The people affected are of low-income families and retired elderly people who do not have automobiles, and some due to their age find it difficult to travel at all, the council was told.

Christopher Caul, spokesman for the group, said, "We are asking Venice and the other city councils to support the location of a distribution point in our area. To cause these people to travel to East St. Louis is an unfair and unreasonable burden."

"Mr. E. R. Paddock, president of the senior citizens group in Granite City, asked the Governor (Dan Walker) when he held his accountability session here about establishing a food stamp center here. According to Mr. Paddock the Governor told him that the food stamp centers were basically under contract with currency exchanges, such as in East St. Louis."

Alderman John Ervin commented, "I have met with the people here and have been trying to work on this problem with them. By the end of next week I hope to have a meeting with representatives of both the State Department of Public Aid and the Department of Agriculture. I think if we get everyone face to face at one time the government officials might see the need a little clearer."

The Welfare group only addressed the council about the food stamp problem, which is one of five items listed on a petition they are circulating. The other items deal with a telephone toll-free system, by which the people can call the Department of Public Aid and a request that the old policy of the Department of Public Aid regarding utility turn-offs and deposits remain. Under a new policy beginning this winter, Public Aid no longer will help people with utility turn-offs and their grants are increased, a spokesman noted.

Paul King, manager of the 1974 Illinois State Fair, Nick Pennington, chairman of the State Fair Advisory Board, and Director of Agriculture Robert J. "Bud" Williams also will attend as the State Fair opens its gates to people from across the nation.

After preliminary ceremonies are completed, Gov. Walker will cut the symbolic ribbon as 1,000 helium balloons are released and the National Guard Band plays the 1974 Illinois State Fair theme.

The fourth item the group is concerned with is medical care. The group contends that many people who need help can not get to a hospital or doctor because they can not afford taxi fare, and bus service may not be available.

In other council business, the aldermen accepted the McKinley Toll Bridge report for the month of July 1974, which showed an average of 7,226 vehicles crossing the bridge each day, for a monthly total of 224,626 vehicular crossings.

A police report submitted by Chief of Police Ralph B. Brawley said that $98.90 in fines during the month of June had been received from the clerk of the Circuit Court. The police made 27 adult and three juvenile arrests during June.

Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold told the council, "I am very well pleased with the young people are working well and the town is looking nice. I can not praise them enough." Alderman Louis D. Ratliff said, "I think that while we have some extra help, Mr. Maurer (Jay Maurer, superintendent of streets), should start painting cross walks and other safety signs in the city." The council concurred with Ratliff's suggestion. The council adjourned until the next meeting Tuesday, Aug. 20, at 8 p.m. in the City Hall.

State willing to match school construction, debt payments

The Elementary and Secondary School Capital Assistance Program is one year old and its impact is being evaluated.

How well is the program to provide state aid to school districts for construction and debt retirement working? How can it be made to work better?

Local-level school officials are meeting with personnel from the Capital Development Board (CDB), which administers the program, and the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction which along with the CDB must approve project proposals. They are conferring this week in Chicago to discuss such questions and formulate recommendations.

Ten educators and planners from eight states are leading discussion and workshop sessions on school building planning and financing. The Capital Assistance Program was established by the state to fulfill its Constitutional responsibility to finance the public education system, CDB Chairman Louis R. Silverman said at the opening session of the seminar Tuesday.

"However, the elegant Constitutional principle has run into the inelegant facts of late 20th century Illinois," he said. "The efficiency, business management and credibility of the educational community is being questioned as never before."

State Supt. Michael Bakalis and Silverman reported an increasingly skeptical mood of taxpayers in the state. This mood is reflected by the growing number of failures by districts to raise money through referenda, it was asserted.

Voters have rejected bond issues around the state that would have been matched by $11.6 million in state money under the Capital Assistance Program, the gathering was told.

The answer to restoring lost confidence, Silverman said, is to "show a willingness to find and accept new, tax-saving methods of providing classrooms, to lead our communities toward efficient administrative units, to live within our means and to develop an awareness of the social impact of our decisions."

On Wednesday, the OSPI and CDB discussed "Where do we go from here with the guidelines" following a morning of workshop sessions on facilities planning. Rep. Arthur L. Berman of Chicago, chairman of the School Problems Commission, was the luncheon speaker.

School music posts filled

The Granite City Board of Education appointed Joseph Owens as music consultant for the school district and Mrs. Patricia Michaeloff as vocal specialist at the elementary and junior high school level during a meeting Tuesday night at the board office.

Owens, who resides at 3253 Willow Ave., currently is the instrumental music teacher at Granite City High School South. Mrs. Michaeloff resides at 1206 W. Pontoon Road and was the vocal music teacher at Marshall School.

Under the music department reorganization, the elementary-junior high specialist will assist the coordinating consultant in instruction, scheduling, ordering and budgeting, and other aspects involved in the vocal programs.

The music consultant will be responsible for music programs in kindergarten through the 12th grade under the same organizational structure, and prepare curriculum guides for use by regular elementary grade teachers and by special music teachers at all grade levels.

Qualified in both vocal and instrumental music, Owens, among his other duties will supervise all district-wide music performances and other music performances of students when they are representing the schools.

Board members also appointed Gene Knapp, of Rural Route Four, Edwardsville, as a guidance counselor at South High School. He presently is a physiology teacher at South.

Other personnel hired during the meeting were Mrs. Linda Miles, 9445 Court, as secretary at North High School, and Mrs. Beverly Schutzenhofer, 2301 Delmar Ave., as secretary at South High School.

Teachers hired effective Aug. 23 include, Mrs. Deborah Dietrich, 2408 State St., special education, EMH; Miss Alisa Gasparovic, 2150 Edison Ave., upper primary, McKinley; Miss Peggy Hunt, 2977 Spaulding, lower primary, Logan; Miss Lynn Jacobsmeyer, 2401 Gary Ave., middle primary, Frohardt; Mrs. Karen Johnstone, 2929 Dogwood Ave., middle primary, Webster.

Mrs. Linda Koenig, 1568 Cottage Ave., middle primary, Niedringhaus; Richard Logan, 81 Riviera Drive, physical education, Emerson; Miss Ruth North, 2327 St. Bernard Ave., girls P.E., South High; Nicholas Petrillo, 2201 Monroe St., boys P.E., South High.

Those hired for one year only to replace those on leave of absence are Miss Carol Donnelly, 2851 Fortune Drive, home economics, Coolidge; Miss Patricia Johnson, 2545 Iowa, lower primary, Webster; Miss Cathy Ortolano, 3238 Carlson Ave., math, Frather; Miss Pamela Peters, 3001 Pehling Road; Ronald D. Simpson, 2518 State St., remedial reading, Title I.

Leaves of absence granted by the board were for Mrs. Karen Jesse, math teacher at Coolidge and Joan Waid, home economics at Coolidge for the 1974-75 school term.

Resignations were accepted for John C. Jacobs, Industrial Arts-Vocational education at North High School, who is accepting another position; Marian Evans, special education, EMH, at Wilson; and Jack L. Farver, lower intermediate at Emerson. Both are leaving the area.

R. T. Jones, administrative assistant, personnel, requested that new positions be created for a vocational placement counselor and pre-school teacher and teacher assistants for the forthcoming school year.

Board members agreed to the suggestion for a vocational placement counselor who would be a specialist within the team of guidance workers, to assist students in utilizing their educational experiences to find a successful place in society and world of work. The placement counselor provides a bridge between the school and the community for students interested in employment.

This position will have responsibilities at both high schools.

Approval was granted for creation of additional Title I positions to include one additional pre-school teacher (a certificated kindergarten instructor) and three teaching assistants who will each work a six-hour day at the pre-school center.

An additional position for a person qualified to be in charge of the Campus Monitor Program, proposed for South High School in conjunction with the Manpower program, also was approved.

This particular position would have a campus monitor to patrol the entire campus, all buildings, parking lots and ground areas. The monitor will observe student behavior, discuss policy violations with students and refer repeated or gross misconduct situations to the school office.

Participation in the manpower program would impose certain requirements that the person hired must have been unemployed for 30 days prior to hiring, and be registered with the unemployment service.

Selection would be by a local agency. The person must be a Madison County resident.

The position would have to be a new one not previously included in the budget.

Reimbursement would be 80 per cent of the salary and fringes to March 31, not to exceed $10,000 per position. Since the position must be full-time and for the school year, the district would have to pick up all costs for the school year after April 1.

Levee district funds to bring higher interest

A new investment program under which the East Side Levee and Sanitary District expects to increase its interest income from $40,000 to approximately $120,000 per year was initiated by the district's board of trustees in regular meeting at East St. Louis yesterday.

The trustees approved a plan to place all of the district's bond reserve funds of approximately $1 million on deposit in the First National Bank of St. Louis and the Union National Bank of East St. Louis which have offered to pay 12 per cent interest on invested accounts.

Jack Scoville, levee board president, said the action was taken after he and Mrs. Helen Christich, chief clerk of the district, called financial institutions throughout the metropolitan area to solicit interest offers.

Scoville said during the past several years the district has been receiving interest ranging from 5 1/2 per cent to 7 1/2 and 8 1/2 per cent in the various banks in the district in which it has maintained deposits.

Under the plan approved Wednesday, bond reserve funds will be withdrawn from the First National Bank of East St. Louis, the First Granite City National Bank, the First National Bank in Madison and the Lincoln Trail Bank at Fairview Heights. The money will be deposited with the two banks offering the higher interest.

The total interest revenue received from the banks offering the lower interest rates has averaged about $40,000 per year, Scoville said. The interest on the total reserve account at 12 per cent should give the district approximately $120,000 per year, Scoville said.

The district will continue to maintain its regular business checking account with the First National Bank of East St. Louis, he said.

Trinity Methodist to mark 50th year

The 50th anniversary of Trinity United Methodist Church will be celebrated by church members and guests at special events during the weekend.

At 10:30 a.m. Sunday, members of the congregation will meet at Webster School and march to the church's present location at 25th and Henry streets, the Rev. Ellis H. Dugger, pastor, announced this week.

Guest speaker at the Sunday morning service will be Dr. R. Paul Sims of Springfield, the administrative assistant of the Illinois area of the United Methodist Church. He formerly served as pastor of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

As part of the golden anniversary celebration, the Rev. Hugh Wallace, pastor of Faith United Methodist Church of Cahokia, will speak at 7 p.m. Friday at the local church. The Rev. Wallace is a former Granite Cityan who entered the ministry in 1968 upon his ordination at Trinity Methodist. He will speak tomorrow evening on the topic "When We Cease to be Strangers."

The Cahokia pastor attended school here and is married to the former Mildred Hendricks, a daughter of Mrs. Irene Hendricks of Granite City. The couple has many friends in this area.

Prior to his assignment at the Cahokia church, the Rev. Wallace served as a pastor at a Vandalia church for two years.

A youth rally is planned at 7 p.m. Saturday at Trinity Methodist, featuring the New World Committee, a musical group from McKendree College, Lebanon.

Trinity United Methodist began as a mission Sunday school in 1917 at Webster School. On Aug. 12, 1964, a meeting was held to authorize the organization of East Granite Methodist Episcopal Church. Presiding over the initial meeting was Dr. George R. Goodman, the district superintendent. The Rev. Robert Morris, then pastor of Niedringhaus Methodist Church, served as secretary. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vesich of Granite City were present at the first meeting and served among the original officers. Mrs. Arthur Frazier and Mrs. Jessie Jennings were among the charter members. Mrs. Jennings is the only remaining active church member from the original group.

The present building was erected in 1949 at which time the name of the church was officially changed to Trinity Methodist Church. More recently it became Trinity United Methodist Church.

The church has approximately 250 members, the Rev. Dugger said. All present and former members are invited to the special anniversary service Sunday and to share in the basket dinner to follow, the Rev. Dugger announced.

Missionary project for class

Mrs. Cora Miller presented the devotions entitled "Christian Living," taken from the book of Romans, at a meeting Monday of the Fidelity Class at Second Baptist Church. The group sang a hymn and Mrs. Dolores Ayers offered prayer for the sick. Roll call was answered with scripture verses.

Those attending included Patty Lee, Randy Lee, Mary Ann Pfaff, Gertrude Bundy, Mina Duggins, and Thelma Dutton, guests; and members, Mesdames Ruby Clausen, Helen Wigger, Ruby Snyder, Minnie Cavins, Myra Grote, Ruth Chapman, Kay Pierson, Ruby Harper, Ruth Hassler and Ruby Mayberry. Plans were made to host a "Christmas in August" project, with cash proceeds to be donated to Miss Helen Lambert, a missionary who is working with Indian families in Arizona. Mrs. Naomi Ronney gave the closing prayer.

BURGLARS BREAK DOOR. Burglars broke the front door at the home of Mrs. Virgie Wallace, 2800 (rear) Madison Ave., and stole a television, valued at $125, a tape recorder, worth $80, and a number of stereo records, the owner reported Tuesday.

Birthday dinner for Marti Greer

Marti Greer celebrated her ninth birthday at a dinner party given Monday afternoon at the Ponderosa Steak House by her grandmother, Mrs. Mildred "Moomie" Boyer. Guests attending were Kathy, Elizabeth, Jodi and Monty Boyer, Rita and Michelle Boyer, Cathy and Christie Elmore, Dava and Greg Gibson, Mrs. Joyce "Sissy" Gibson, an aunt of the honoree; and Mrs. Judie Greer and Christopher Greer, mother and brother of the guest of honor.

Twirls to championship

Rhonda Sue Mikulas, a talented baton twirler and the recipient of over 300 trophies and state awards in previous competition, surpassed her former achievements by winning first place in the drum majorette championship event and cheerleader of the year title at the AYOOP Grand National Talent Contest held during the weekend at Notre Dame University, Ind.

The 7-year-old performer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Mikulas Jr., Sunny Dell Acres, competed against girls in her age group from Ohio, Missouri, Arizona, Kansas and Tennessee.

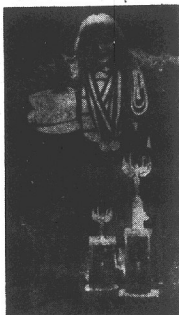

Rhonda Sue started baton lessons at age four and began competing when 5 years old.

"American Youth on Parade" was the theme of the four-day contest, which featured baton twirling events and competitions designed to uncover other talents of children interested in baton.

The contest was the first time the GC girl competed in a drum majorette event and was judged on whistle and oral commands, beat time, presentation and appearance.

She also accumulated enough points to place second in the solo singing talent event, a category in which she received a first place award last year.

A student of Cheryl Blackwood School of Baton, the youthful performer also entered the baton contest and achieved four awards in solo singing, advance hoop, advance flag, and advance two baton.

She is a second grade student at St. Joseph Catholic School and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith and Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Mikulas Sr., all of Granite City.

Mary Ellen McQuay is honoree

A personal wedding shower was given this week for Miss Mary Ellen McQuay at the home of Mrs. Nellie McBride, 1218 Alton Ave., Madison.

Hostesses for the party were Vicki McQuay, sister of the bride-to-be, Sharon McBride, Alicia Hendrickson and Helen Zelenko.

The honoree is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McQuay, 1031 Iowa St., Madison. She will be married on Sept. 21 at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Madison, to Burt Thompson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Thompson, 1919 Edwardsville Road, Madison. Blue and white were the colors used throughout the decorations. A blue lace and satin parasol canopied the gift table and a miniature bride doll centered the refreshment table. Guests were presented tiny blue parasols as favors.

The future bride started the event by opening many gifts. Games were played and prizes were awarded to the winners.

A buffet luncheon was served to Mrs. Victoria McQuay, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. Ruth Thompson, mother of the prospective groom; and Mrs. Janice Dittman, Mrs. Paula Ballew, Mrs. Brenda Narvaez, Misses Joan Hollenbeck, Carol Walker, Kathy Warner, Connie Piechocinski, Shelley Siebert, Janice Mueller, Joyce Mossa, Peggy Stagner and Christy Sicely.

Increasing derailments in Illinois blamed on lack of track repairs

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott during the weekend took an unprecedented step in filing a legal action in the Illinois Supreme Court against the Illinois Commerce Commission to force the state agency to meet its statutory obligation to enforce railroad safety standards.

Scott charged that the State Commerce Commission has failed to live up to its responsibilities to insure that safety standards protecting the life and the health of railroad travelers, employees and the general public be observed.

He pointed to the July 19 tragedy in Decatur which claimed the life of seven railroad employees, injured numerous other persons and caused property damage in the millions.

"The Decatur explosion was preceded by other accidents injurious to public health and safety," he said.

"The Decatur tragedy could have been prevented," Scott said. "If the Commission had heeded a complaint from a railroad worker warning of dangerous conditions existing in the Decatur railroad yard. This complaint was received by the Illinois Commerce Commission more than two months before the accident."

"Instead of acting on this complaint, the commission referred the complainant to the union. This is a direct breach of the commission's statutory duty to investigate complaints of the public concerning unsafe railroad conditions.

"Valuable time was lost and today we have to live with the unfortunate consequences."

Scott's action, filed in the

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Aug. 8, 1974 Page 12

State Supreme Court, requests the high court to compel the commission to inspect tracks and equipment of Illinois railroads as mandated by the Illinois General Assembly.

Scott said he brought the action using his authority under the Illinois Constitution to protect the health, safety, and welfare of citizens and residents of Illinois.

"The commission must fulfill its obligation to enforce railroad safety if we are to prevent other tragedies like Decatur," he added.

The attorney general's petition said railroads have intentionally deferred maintenance of railroad tracks and road beds, and that thousands of miles of tracks used by railroads in Illinois have deteriorated to the point of being unsafe.

"During 1971, a total of 107 reported derailments occurred in Illinois largely as a result of increased deterioration of the railroad tracks.

"The number of reported derailments increased to 152 in 1973. Through July of this year 135 derailments have already been reported," Scott's petition said.

"The action filed in the Supreme Court goes along with my efforts in the last two legislative sessions to get legislation passed to regulate hazardous substances. This entire area has been neglected far too long," Scott emphasized.

"Illinois citizens have a right to be protected from railroad catastrophes which could have been prevented if those responsible for the safety of the people had fulfilled their responsibilities."

Farm petroleum prices are likely to stabilize

Prices on farm petroleum products should be close to present levels this fall, officials of FS Services, Inc., predicted this week. FS is a farm supply cooperative serving Midwest farms in Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin through 135 locally-owned member companies.

Supplies to agriculture are presently assured by the federal allocation regulations, FS observed. Supplies of petroleum products are ample to meet farmers' needs this fall and winter, it was related.

There are too many variables in the world petroleum market, much less the U.S. market, to adequately predict what petroleum prices, particularly gasoline, might be in the year or so ahead. That was the reaction of FS officials to a comment by Treasury Secretary William Simon made following his Middle East tour.

Simon predicted that gasoline prices may decline 4.6 to 6.9 cents per gallon in the year or so ahead because of anticipated drops in the world price of crude oil.

FS officials noted that the U.S. petroleum industry prices are currently regulated closely by federal mandatory allocation programs. These are not due to expire until February and already there is talk in Congress of extending them to 1976.

In addition, they pointed out, costs for building new refineries have risen substantially in the last few years. The U.S. is currently importing one-third of its petroleum needs from foreign sources.

Some of the Midwest governments have indicated a desire to stretch their available crude supplies and possibly cut production to do so.

The U.S. demand for gasoline has leveled off at present due in large measure to the federally imposed 55-mile-per-hour speed limit. This has tended to conserve supplies, and any change would affect that supply and consequently tend to push up prices, a spokesman said.

FS is anticipating more than usual grain drying this fall.

Farmers are expected to harvest their corn and soybeans with a high moisture content this fall as a hedge against frost ruining late planted crops.

Explorers home from canoe trip

A highlight of a canoe trip by Explorer Post 10-33 on the Current and Jacks Fork rivers in Missouri, held from July 28 through Aug. 3, was meeting 18 campfire girls from the Kansas City, Mo. area.

Five local explorers, Tom Cox, Mark Hoffman, Scott Wiesehan, Scott Matyas and Kyle Smith and two adults, Officer Glenn Wright and Paul Hoffman, had been on the river several days when they met the girls. The two groups passed the rest of the day swimming and water fighting, according to Wright.

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald Veizer met the group and canoe the Jacks Fork river with the police-sponsored Explorers.

Among the adventures of the trip was the introduction of frogs legs for supper, which were not accepted enthusiastically, Wright said.

Body of drowning victim recovered

The body of Johnny Smith, 41, of St. Louis, who is believed to have lived earlier this year in Eagle Park Acres, was recovered from the Mississippi River by St. Charles, Mo., authorities at 4:45 p.m. Monday.

Smith drowned when he fell into the river while fishing at the Alton Dam at 5:45 p.m. Saturday. The St. Louis coroner's office said Smith's wallet contained a hunting license that expired in June, listing Smith's address as 215 Hill St., Madison. Funeral services are pending at a St. Louis funeral home.

Winnings taxable

All winnings from the Illinois State Lottery are taxable income and must be reported on federal income tax returns, Leon C. Green, district director of Internal Revenue for Central and Southern Illinois, said yesterday.

Lottery winnings can only be reported on the long Form 1040, Green advised. It must be shown in the space provided as other income and added to the total amount of income.

Taxpayers who itemize deductions on their federal income tax returns may deduct gambling losses but only to the extent of their winnings.

Those who win lottery prizes may be subject to filing an estimated tax declaration and paying a portion of the tax due shortly after receiving a prize.

Green pointed out that taxpayers may be able to avail themselves of the income averaging provision and reduce the amount of federal tax due on their winnings.

Income averaging permits taxpayers who receive an unusually large amount of taxable income in one year to figure the tax for that year as though the income had been earned over a five-year period. For further information about declarations of estimated tax or income averaging, Green suggested that taxpayers call the IRS toll-free at 800-252-2921.

Crackdown on cycle noise

Motorcycles causing excessive loud noise will be stopped by Venice police and a check made to see that the baffling from the exhaust system has not been removed, according to Chief of Police Ralph D. Brawley.

Brawley said that the owners could face charges of excessive noise under a city ordinance and an improper muffler charge under a state law.

If an arrest ticket is issued, it would require a $25 cash bond, and conviction on the charge or charges could cost the driver between $5 and $500 in fines, Chief Brawley said.

Brawley said that the crackdown was due to a large number of complaints received from local residents and members of the City Council.

SIUE Summer Remediation 'Camp' Aids Children, Students, Teachers

Future and present teachers and clinicians enrolled in special education courses at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville found unusual opportunities for training and service in the Summer Remediation and Recreation Program on the SIUE campus.

About 70 children from area communities participated in daily sessions in basic skills, social studies, perceptual and conceptual training, language development and sensory-motor development. Social and recreational activities were an integral part of the program.

While helping with the operation of the "camp," nearly 200 adults from SIUE classes participated in pre-service and in-service training for teachers of emotionally handicapped and learning disabled children.

The university program gives students direct experience in educational assessment, socialization activities, perceptual training activities, and teacher training, according to Thomas M. Shea, associate professor of special education at SIUE and director of the summer "Camp R & R" program.

Divided into two age groups—preschoolers and elementary children through age 11-1/2—the youngsters in the program were exposed to arts and crafts, nature study and music as well as historical and educational places of interest.

"It's a mutually rewarding experience for all concerned—children, students, teachers and parents," Director Shea said.

JUMPING THE ROPE is an easy trick for some; for others, it requires sensory-motor development. Assisting a youngster at the Summer Remediation and Recreation Program on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is Evonne Buono, an SIUE special education student from O'Fallon.

SOCIAL AND RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES are an integral part of the Summer Remediation and Recreation Program for children ages 3 to 11-1/2. Offered by the department of special education of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the program helps emotionally handicapped and learning disabled children and provides pre-service and in-service training for teachers and clinicians.

NATURE STUDY is included in the Summer Remediation and Recreation Program offered to emotionally handicapped and learning disabled children on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Nomasa Gwalla (left), a native of South Africa, is one of the SIUE special education students who assist with the program while completing their university practicum experience.

Air Force school accepted

The Community College of the Air Force (CCAF) has been granted full institutional membership by the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges (AACJC). CCAF is the only military member of the AACJC. CCAF awards a Career Education Certificate (CEC) for satisfactory completion of its study programs and not an associate degree. Although CCAF awards the certificate in lieu of a degree, several nationally recognized educators have commented that the CEC study program is equal to many two-year programs in leading colleges.

For further information on the courses, Quad-Cityans may contact Sgt. George Habert at 1201 Niedringhaus Ave., or (319) phone 676-5225.

COOK-OUT-Season

FOOD BULLETIN
Scientists and researchers through exhaustive tests have come up with some amazing answers, such as:
Feeder cattle confined to 20 square feet at the Swift farm gained a pound with one to two pounds less feed than cows in feed lots five times as large.
Turkeys confined to four square feet apiece gained 10% faster with about 5% less death loss than comparable birds raised on open range.
Given time, our farmers will produce enough food for the U.S. and maybe a little surplus to help less fortunate countries.

Denver can turn on the power

By ROBIN WELLES

John Denver's voice is thin and fragile but just when it sounds like it might be on the verge of slipping into a falsetto he turns on the power and out comes pure music. He also looks like he'd be more at home behind an accountant's desk working 8 to 5.

But he's one of the hottest singers around these days and

Antone Tarris dies at 88

Antone "Tony" Tarris, 88, of 1501 Kirkpatrick Homes, Ill. for 20 years, died at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted three weeks ago. Born in Italy, he had resided in this area 60 years. He was a retired janitor at Nesses Co. Mr. Tarris was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Survivors include two sons, William Tarris of Granite City and Paul Tarris of Fort Worth, Tex.; two daughters, Mrs. John (Joanette) Prince of Affton, Mo., and Mrs. Andy (Vivian) Ramack of Inglewood, Calif.; 11 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Jacksonville meet resumes

Four Granite City softball teams are ready to resume action Saturday at Jacksonville in the Illinois Amateur Softball Association men's Class A state tournament.

Hagop's local regional champs, play Charleston at 11 a.m. Saturday; Gangbusters, the Granite City second place team, will play either Carbondale or Kankakee at 1 p.m.; and D & R's will play Greenfield at 3 p.m.

First round action began Tuesday with Brothers Two Sporting Goods, the Granite City fourth place team, defeating Jerseyville. Brothers Two will compete again at 5 p.m. Saturday.

The journey will continue through Aug. 18 with the champion advancing to the nationals Aug. 29 - Sept. 2 at Long Island, N.Y.

1944 classmates seek addresses

Plans are being finalized for the 30th reunion of the June 1944 graduating class of Granite City High School. The reunion dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. Oct. 12 at the Granite City Army Installation, according to the planning committee.

Addresses still are needed for nine former classmates. They are Mrs. John (Lorraine Barnhart) Buble, Tom Beard, Charles D. Jones, William Jones, Richard Malloy, Mrs. Charles (Mary Moore) Fefel, Sally Moreno, June Peters and Mrs. William (Elinor Reitz) Usher.

Anyone having information concerning the persons listed above is asked to contact Gene Ross, at 877-4270, or Mrs. Lucille Caban, at 876-7028.

Apostolic Church hosts convention

The Apostolic Church of Jesus Christ, now located at 224 State St., Madison, will host a church convention Friday through Sunday, according to the pastor, Grace K. Sparks.

A St. Louis gospel singing group will be featured at 7:30 p.m. Friday. Bishop Andrew Hosier will preside at the ministers' meeting set for 6 p.m. tomorrow.

Bishop Hosier, formerly from Arkansas, currently is involved in religious activities in this area, Pastor Sparks said.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. each day with refreshments to be served following the afternoon sessions.

Thieves net $1,225 loot

Items valued in excess of $1,225 were stolen in a burglary reported at 9:40 p.m. Monday at the home of Paul Cass, 2821 Denver Ave.

Entry was gained through a rear door. Taken were a 8 mm. movie camera, valued at $600; an 8-track stereo, $370; speakers, $80; a wedding band, $100; 15 eight-track tapes, $75; and a headphone set, no value listed.

ALL THE FISH YOU CAN EAT FRIDAY, $1.66 AT GRANTS

another Denver album is awaited by his fans with all the anxiety of a crowd gathered for a fire sale.

His latest for RCA, just out, is called: "John Denver — Back Home Again." And one thing about it is as certain as another round of inflation: it will sell, and sell.

This is country music, of course, but with that little tinge of pop that is getting more and more common with the guitar strummers. Denver's "Sweet Surrender," which is one of the best on this album, even has more than a nodding acquaintance with rock. But "This Old Guitar" and the title song are both pure country. "Thank God, I'm a country boy," sings Denver. Amen.

Johnny Mathis has been around for nearly two decades now but he has a voice and style that don't go out of style. Columbia has rounded up some of his best recordings in a new album. Things like "What'll I Do," "Put on a Happy Face," "The Touch of Your Lips," and "The End of a Love Affair." This is music to dream by. "I don't believe that singers should go around picking on society through their music just for the sake of doing it but if an artist feels strongly enough about something and can express it in a constructive, informative way then he should do it," said Jimmy Seals, one-half of the singing team of Seals and Crofts, in an interview.

"When Dash (Crofts) and I first heard the song 'Unborn Child' we instantly liked it not only for its music but its message," said Seals, talking about the controversial title song; of their million-selling Warner Brothers album. "We felt it was in line with our philosophies and would be helpful to anyone contemplating an abortion."

Both Seals and Crofts and their families are believers in the Baha'i faith, which originated in Persia in 1844. Baha'i teaches that there is only one God; that all people are of one family; that all religions originate from one source and that all prophets are directed from this one God.

"Baha'i has taught us there is unity on a higher level and that life is sacred," said Crofts. "We try to reflect these beliefs in some of our music."

One thing that these two talented Texans do following their concerts is to extend an invitation to the audience to join them at a nearby auditorium or hall where they answer questions about the Baha'i faith.

"It started out where we'd have five or 10 people back to the hotel," Crofts said. "Then it got up to 30 and 40 people. Last time we had about 7,000 show up at an auditorium we rented. It's fantastic."

But then, so are Seals and Crofts.

On the singles scene there are a number of good tracks just waiting to be spun. Gary Glitter has recorded "I Love You Love Me," a '80s style rock 'n' roll love song on Bell Records. It has a solid beat and a catchy refrain that is sure to appeal to the bubble gummers and win for Glitter a spot on the national charts. Formula IV has come up with a great upbeat rendition of "If We Can't Get Along" on Rocky Road Records. The group has an excellent sound and should be heard from consistently on both pop and soul stations. Terry Jacks has a new release on Bell Records. He has recorded a haunting version of "If You Go Away" that should give him his second hit in a row. The Hot Dogs have recorded a hard rocking version of Johnny Cash's monster hit "I Walk the Line." It takes guts to get rough and raunchy with a classic country hit but The Hot Dogs seem to have pulled it off.

If you like blue-eyed soul then stand back and enjoy some great sounds by a talented lady, Kiki Dee. Her new release on the Rocket MCA label is guaranteed to have you singing and tapping your feet. Dee is assisted on this impressive debut album by fellow Englishman Elton John and his band. John and Clive Franks produced the album but the spotlight belongs entirely to Dee. She has a delicious voice and a great rhythm and blues style. The music is tight and shows good variety. Several of the album cuts were penned by Dee. Best cuts: "Lonnie and Josie," "Travelin' in Style," "You Put Something Bigger Inside of Me," "Sugar on the Floor," and "Song For Adam."

SPRINGFIELD — A brief stab with a needle, or a sugar cube dissolving on the tongue, would seem a handsome alternative to days or weeks of fever, rash and pain. The bargain seems ever better considering that some childhood diseases have behind a legacy of permanent brain, heart and muscle damage, vision and hearing impairments, or even death.

Despite the availability and ease of administration of vaccines to prevent the common diseases which plague childhood — measles, rubella (three-day or German measles), polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough — and despite Illinois school laws which require every youngster to be immunized against them before entering school, there may be as many as several hundred thousand Illinois youngsters who have not been protected against some or all.

Gov. Daniel Walker said earlier this year that more than a million and a half children Downstate "remain unimmunized and susceptible to these illnesses."

Dr. Byron Francis, chief of the division of disease control in the state Department of Public Health, says the number isn't that large — in fact, "the number can't be determined, despite repeated attempts because some children would require several vaccines and some need more than one dose to achieve immunization for a specific disease.

What the department does know for sure is that 1.2 million doses of various vaccines and antigens will be distributed Downstate (all of Illinois outside Chicago) during this year, and another 996,000 will be distributed in Chicago by the department. The vaccines will have a minimum value of nearly $300,000, according to Dennis Olsen, coordinator of the immunization program for the department.

Last fall, the department and the office of the state superintendent of public instruction combined efforts and sent out letters to all regional superintendents, district superintendents, building principals and school nurses, reminding them of school code requirements and that the (individual) local school district has responsibility for planning implementing programs to see that students receive the required immunization.

Dr. Francis said the department prefers to see students receive the immunizations much earlier — starting about the age of two — from their usual source of health care, which may thereby determine and treat other medical needs as well.

If the student has failed to receive the early inoculations, says Olsen, the school physician or nurse notifies the parents. If the child still is not inoculated by a private physician, or a local public health clinic or agency, as a last resort the department itself can send in teams to conduct special clinics. The department will conduct about 50 such special events this year, part of an ongoing program to bring the requirement and the reality closer together where immunizations are concerned.

The state makes some vaccines available to private physicians as well as to public health departments or clinics. Some physicians prefer to purchase their own, Dr. Francis said, because they may prefer a product from a different laboratory, or because some combinations of vac-

Soil and water district plans bus tour Aug. 24

The Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District will sponsor its annual all-day bus tour Saturday, Aug. 24.

The bus will leave the U.S. Agriculture Department building (Old Alton Road, south of the junction of 159 and 143, northwest edge of Edwardsville) at 9:15 a.m. Aug. 24.

The tour will feature stops at a modern dairy enterprise, a newly constructed lake and a recreation area, and views of other conservation practices in the county.

An air-conditioned bus has been reserved for the tour, for which there is no charge. Reservations are to be made before Aug. 20 by calling 656-4710.

There will be a charge for lunch, to be served at the Galaxia Restaurant in Alhambra.

Deputy Coroner Edward Werner in the deaths of Janice Gaudreault and Norman Randall, both victims of traffic accidents.

Miss Gaudreault, a 15-year old Granite City girl, was killed at 11 p.m. June 15 when a car in which she was a passenger plunged into a ditch and struck a utility pole on Old Alton Road.

Mr. Randall, 61, of 223 Barcliff Drive, was injured fatally when his auto was struck by an Illinois Central Gulf Railroad train on a private road about one and one-half miles west of Route 157 near Glen Carbon at 1:05 p.m. May 19.

An open verdict was returned in the death of Carroll Bailey, 18, of 2847 Harding Blvd. who apparently drowned June 20 in a rain-swollen slough between the Granite City locks on the Chain of Rocks Canal and Rock Road.

Mrs. Lucy Lucido, Madison County deputy coroner, conducted an inquiry into the deaths of two Madison brothers, Howard Bridges and Reddis Bridges, who were killed at 11:10 p.m. on June 14.

Accidental death was the verdict in the death of the brothers, whose auto struck the rear of a dump truck on Ill. Route 208, a half mile south of the Bent Road intersection.

An inquiry conducted by Richard Howe, Madison County deputy coroner, determined a bus attack was the cause of death of Miss Ellen Armfield, 50, of 2323 Cleveland Blvd.

She was found dead at 10:30 a.m. on May 4 at her home by Granite City police officers.

Faculty Senate names officers

Annette Balch, associate professor of biological sciences, has been elected president of the new Faculty Senate at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Doris Bell, assistant professor of nursing, is secretary of the group.

The Faculty Senate was organized on the recommendation of the all-campus University Senate to provide a group which can act for the faculty and represent faculty opinion.

The nine-member executive committee of the Faculty Senate includes Professors: Balch and Bell.

Other members are S. Kumar Jain, professor of business; Thomas W. Nielsen, professor of dental medicine; Reagan Carpenter, professor of elementary education; David B. Valley, assistant professor of speech and theater; William Embison, associate professor of philosophy; Marvin Solomon, assistant professor in Lovejoy Library; and Don McCabe, assistant professor of government and public affairs.

Dr. Howlett Rotary speaker

Madison Rotarian Dr. E. Stanley Howlett spoke about his recent trip to Spain and North Africa and the future outlook of Granite City Steel at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Madison Rotary Club at the Madison Recreation Center.

Dr. Howlett, a life time member of the NAACP, is minority affairs administrator at Granite City Steel.

He said he found the economy of Spain and North Africa very low in comparison to the United States.

He noted that on a person-to-person basis, the people in both areas were very friendly, but the cultures are radically different than this country's.

Closer to home, Dr. Howlett said that the outlook for the future of Granite City Steel is very good. They currently employ 5,100 factory and office workers and with increased production more jobs will become available, he added.

Granite City Rotarian Richard Kerch was a visitor. The club celebrated the 60th birthday of Fred Schmidt the Rotary secretary.

CYCLIST HURT
Larry Veadie, 27, of 4154 Nameoki Road, was treated at 7:55 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital for injuries to the left side received in a motorcycle accident. He was released after treatment.

Recycling Theme of Second Annual Arts and Crafts Fair at SIUE

Woman treated after dispute

Two women were charged with disorderly conduct and one was taken by ambulance for treatment following a disturbance in the 2000 block of Washington Avenue, where police were summoned at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Booked were Luella Krajewski, 47, of 2106A Lee Ave., who was treated for lacerations to the head and abrasions to the fingers and later was released, and Dorothy A. Batey, 35, of 2019 Washington Ave.

It was alleged a dispute began in Mrs. Batey's apartment over a babysitting assignment and continued across the street.

ALL THE FISH YOU CAN EAT
FRIDAY, $1.49 AT GRANTS

People who visited the second annual arts and crafts fair at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were greeted by whittled frogs, "potted people" and recycled fence posts. For the uninitiated, potted people are hand-carved clay figurines fired in a kiln.

Jill Warren, of Hazelwood, Mo., created the little people. She modeled the figurines after actual people she has seen on the streets. "I go to St. Louis a lot and just watch people. I get ideas for my potted people from them," she said.

The SIUE regional arts and crafts fair was held at the Outdoor Performing Arts Facility in conjunction with the Mississippi River Festival. A red and white checkered tent offered protection to 32 booths of different arts and crafts.

Against a background of hand-crocheted shawls fanning in the late afternoon breeze, Angie Taylor of Troy offered tie-dyed halter tops for sale. She is an art major at SIUE. As she threaded strings through the neck of a halter, she said, "Gathering up materials for the fair is sort of a continuing process. I've been making things for four months."

Linda Schmitt, Belleville, displayed an array of whittled frogs, pottery and carvings. "I don't like to limit myself to one thing. I work with anything in the wintertime pottery in the summer," she said. She explained the difference between whittling and carving. "Anything small enough to hold in your hand is whittling and anything larger is carving," she said as she patiently converted a forked tree branch into a leaping frog.

Wooden weed pots are the specialty of Robert Cumpston, of Colfax, who manned a booth at the fair. His pots are recycled fence posts and utility poles cut into sections and turned on a wood lathe. Then they are charred by a special process and polished. A small hole drilled in the top allows the insertion of weeds or artificial flowers.

graduate of SIUE from Edwardsville, brought along her assortment of hanging pots. There were also hand-crafted leather goods, key rings, feather jewelry, copperwork, pottery, paintings, and glass-blown earrings on display.

Recycling seemed to be the theme of the fair. One exhibitor said, "Recycling goes back over 200 years." He smiled and added, "To Bible times, even. From the time the Lord took Adam's rib and recycled it."

Two exhibits featured spoon jewelry. Rings had been fashioned from old silver and stainless steel, spoons. Bracelets had been made from pie server and butter knives. Peace necklaces had been created from antique forks. Lindsey Pack, one of the spoon jewelry salesmen, said, "We get them from yard sales and antique auctions." He had traveled more than 175 miles to attend the fair.

Detective team assigned case

A special detective team has been assigned to investigate the case of the infant found dead in a paper bag last week. The baby apparently was strangled and left near Spring Valley road near Troy. A cloth was found around the baby's neck.

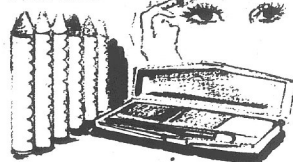

According to a spokesman for Madison County Sheriff John Maestas, the team has some leads.

Anyone with information regarding the child has been requested to call the sheriff's office at (618) 692-4433.

Burglars loot 4 offices

Four business firms located at Maryland Plaza in the 2100 block of Pontoon Road were burglarized late Tuesday or early Wednesday morning, according to reports given police at 7 a.m. Wednesday.

The building in which the firms are housed was entered by prying a door on the east side, entering a hallway and removing a ceiling panel to climb into the attic area.

The intruders removed a second ceiling panel to drop down into the offices of John Sobol Realty, 2124 Pontoon Road, where file cabinets were pried open, each room was ransacked and a Polaroid camera, valued at $150, was taken.

Taken from Combined Investment Co., 2128 Pontoon Road, were a 21-inch color television, valued at $600, a 38 caliber revolver, $130, a Polaroid camera, $150, and a radio.

Missing from New You Coiffures, 2122 Pontoon Road, were $115 in currency, $18.25 in checks, $10 quarters, $5 dimes, a frosted wig, a large picture of a woman's face and $3 in assorted change.

The offices of Gerald Thebeau, 2126 Pontoon Road, were ransacked and an electric calculator, valued at $80, was taken, along with a Polaroid camera in a black case, worth $80, $30 cash and $8 in change, the owner reported.

Airport delay
Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri said Senate and House appropriations committee members agreed yesterday to complete two studies of St. Louis metropolitan airport needs before deciding whether to authorize a proposed airport at Columbia-Waterloo, Ill. He said the studies deal with the expansion potential of Lambert Field and the area's long-term aviation traffic volume.

Dime days at Wilson pool

"Dime days" at the Wilson Park swimming pool will be held tomorrow and again on Aug. 23 by the Granite City Park District.

Only area residents with park district identification cards will be permitted to take advantage of the special price.

Mike Jesse, recreation director, announced that while Granite City schools are scheduled to start their fall session on Aug. 26, the swimming pool at the park will remain open through Labor Day.

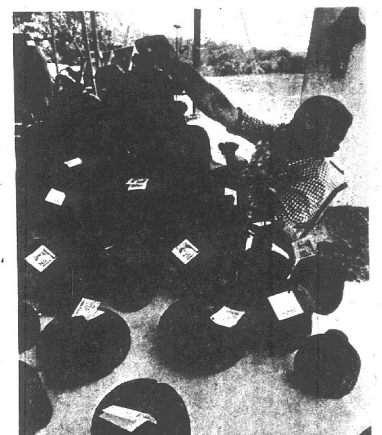

One change has been made in the opening hours of the pool for the week of Aug. 26, when it will be open from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Friday. Normal operating hours will be in effect on Labor Day weekend.

RADIO STOLEN
Ann Crawford, 24 Grenzer Homes, Madison, reported to police at 8:35 a.m. today she was awakened by a noise and when she went to investigate she found a combination radio with two speakers valued at $500 was missing. There was no sign of forced entry.

PARK ESTABLISHED
Grand Canyon National Park in Arizona was established on Feb. 26, 1919.

WHITTILING FROGS—Linda Schmitt of Belleville transforms a piece of driftwood into a leaping frog, while visitors watch at the arts and crafts fair at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. After the whittling process, the "frog" was impaled on a metal rod inserted in a quartz base.

RECYCLED FENCE POSTS and utility poles were used by Robert Cumpston of Colfax (seated at right) to create a display of wooden weed pots for the arts and crafts fair at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. "I live on a farm where old fence posts are readily available," he said.

REMINISCENCE Dancing on old steamboat

By HELEN M. PAGEL

Steamboat on the river usually brings to mind the Mississippi, but other rivers had their pleasure steamers, too. For instance, the Illinois, which was launched about 1900 and could carry 1,000 passengers, traveled up and down the Rock River for about 20 years.

She was a palatial boat and during the summer months she was packed with pleasure seekers on both day and evening excursions. There was a dance floor on the upper deck and an orchestra to play for dancing, and chairs along the railing for those who merely wanted to sit and watch the moonlight on the river.

The lower deck housed the engine room, and there was also a place where you could buy refreshments such as ice cream, soda pop and sandwiches. And you could watch the huge rear paddle wheel churning the water into foam as it propelled the big steamboat up the river.

There was a downtown dock where the passengers boarded her when they went on one of the famous excursions. And here she almost came to a tragic end, for in 1908 she sank at the dock, but somehow she was raised and repaired and was soon on her way again carrying passengers up the river. It was a beautiful sight, the big white steamboat floating majestically on the water, the orchestra playing, and laughing carefree couples waiting to the strains of "The Good Old Summertime" or "Floating Down the River."

The first stop was an amusement park just beyond what was known as the High Bridge because it was built with a high arch purposely so the steamers could pass beneath it, and many of the passengers got off the boat to spend the afternoon on the river and be picked up on the return trip later in the day.

A little farther up the river was a place known as Johns' Woods, which was ideal for picnics and some folks preferred the calm and quiet under the big trees to the gaiety and excitement of the steamboat for a part of the day, and so stopped off there.

The boat's ultimate destination was a wooded area known as Illinois Park which was located between the old limestone and the river just below the oxbow. This was as far as the steamboat could go because just beyond was a sandbar which effectively blocked further progress.

But the park was an ideal place to spend a summer afternoon and many a picnic was held there.

Besides, the spot had the added attraction of being haunted. There was an old legend that two newspaper editors had held a duel there and one of them had killed the other. There was evidently rivalry in those days, too, but fortunately editors seldom resort to such drastic measures to eliminate a competitor these days.

And in the evening came the return trip down the river with stops to pick up the passengers who had been left at Johns' Woods and the park.

During World War I the old steamboat was rechristened The City of Rockford. She still plied her way up the river packed with merry-makers, but in place of languid ladies with parasols and gay young men in striped shirts and derby hats, she carried lively girls in crepe de Chine or Georgette dresses and uniformed soldiers from the camp south of town.

And in place of the dreamy waltzes and melodies of an earlier day, you heard such rollicking songs as "Goodbye Broadway! Hello, France!" and "Where Do We Go From Here, Boys?" For a few more years the steamer continued to make trips on the river, and then one night fire broke out in the building where she was berthed for the winter and the famous old steamboat was destroyed. It was the end of an era and a sad day for many people, but with the building of new low bridges and the coming of the automobile the days of the steamboat were probably numbered anyway. And who knows? Maybe, rather than crumble away in obscurity, the old Illinois would have preferred to die in a blaze of glory.

Literary critic course offered

Basic literary criticism and scholarship, a course in how to read critically, will be taught for the first time at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall.

The team-taught course will introduce students to theories helpful in analyzing literature. Students will be taught the fundamentals of scholarly research, what they need to write a paper, where to find it and how to use it.

Requirements for the course are sophomore standing or completion of basic freshman English. For more information those interested may contact the English language and literature department at the university.

Electricians Local gives $15,000 for new Salvation Army building

In a joint statement released today by representatives of Local 309 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and by the Salvation Army in Granite City, it was announced that the Electricians have pledged $15,000 to the Salvation Army's fund for a new building to serve the needs of southern Madison County.

Mike Faust, business representative, in making the announcement, the gift had "no strings attached" and that it could be used by the Salvation Army as the organization saw fit.

"We hope," he continued, "that the action of our local might stimulate additional pledges and gifts for this project."

Bids on new dam delayed by order

U. S. District Judge Howard Corcoran on Tuesday issued a temporary restraining order in Washington, postponing opening of bids on the first stage of construction of a new dam two miles south of the present Alton dam.

The Army Corps of Engineers postponed yesterday's bid opening due to the order. It involved the initial stage of cofferdam construction.

In Tuesday's announcement of the lawsuit, the Corps was accused of "an end run around Congress and the public" through "choking off public debate."

Preview instructional TV

Preview segments from Channel 9's fall season of instructional programming will be aired in two special "TV (Instructional Television) Utilization" programs Tuesday, Aug. 20, and Tuesday, Aug. 27, at 9 p.m. on Channel 9.

The programs are hosted by KETC-TV's director of school services, Marilyn L. Rothbard.

On Aug. 20, she will preview instructional programming designed for elementary students.

Included will be highlights from "The Letter People," a new beginning reading series produced by KETC-TV; "Villa Alegre," a new bilingual children's program; and "Inside-Out," which has been nominated for an Emmy Award in children's programming.

On Aug. 27, highlights from programming for secondary students will be previewed.

Some of the shows are: Alistair Cooke's Emmy Award-winning "America" series; a Channel 9 production designed to introduce high school students to the American legal system, "Lex Singularis"; and the new "CTW Health Series," designed to destroy some old myths about health as well as teach proper health care.

The TV Utilization programs are designed to inform teachers, parents and students about the instructional programs that will appear on Channel 9 during the 1974-75 school year.

County jail bond issue recommended to board

The Madison County Board's building committee decided Monday to will present for board approval Aug. 21 a resolution authorizing a bond issue to build a new Madison County jail in Edwardsville.

The action, if approved, would assure Edwardsville businessmen having land for the jail that the project will become a reality.

The jail is expected to be located near an Illinois Terminal Railroad spur behind Second Street.

Members of the building committee said the bond issue could generate as much as $4 million for construction of the new facility, which would house 90 to 100 prisoners.

Businessmen are donating the land in an effort to keep the jail in the downtown area of Edwardsville.

Some County Board members have been considering moving the jail to land on Troy Road outside the city's southern boundary on land already owned by the county.

Indications are that they now will support the recommendation of the building committee and leave the jail in the downtown area.

A study of the new St. Clair County jail is being made and Madison County institution may bear a resemblance.

Henry Gabriel of Granite City, the county's architect, has been asked to study the St. Clair facility.

Boy, 14, shot accidentally

Dave Bauer, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bauer, Thomas Court, Glen Carbon, is a patient in the intensive care unit at St. Elizabeth Hospital as a result of a gunshot wound to his back.

According to Glen Carbon police, the Bauer boy and a 15-year-old friend had been hunting and were walking home when the gun his friend was carrying accidentally discharged.

He was admitted to the hospital at 4:55 p.m. on Monday.

Plays paddle ball in traffic

Tom B. Thaxton, 19, of 3408 Lydia Lane, was charged with standing in a roadway, in violation of a curfew, at 6:10 p.m. Wednesday in the 2800 block of State Street, where officers said they found him standing in the southbound traffic lanes hitting a rubber ball attached to a paddle against passing vehicles.

Initially, police warned the youth against continuing the activity and released him. However, Thaxton renewed the past-time at 29th and State streets, and was arrested, officers said.

Mrs. Pearl F. (Gray) Miller, 82, of 2901 E. 25th St., a Granite City resident for 10 years, died at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Colonial Haven Nursing Home. She had been ill two and a half months and a patient at the nursing home four weeks.

Mrs. Miller was born in East Carondelet, Ill., and resided in East St. Louis prior to moving to this area.

She was a member of St. John United Church of Christ.

Her husband, Ralph Miller, died in December 1972. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Lester (Dorothy) Johannigmeier, Granite City, and Mrs. Kenneth (Doris) Juncker, Belleville; one son, Ralph Miller, St. Petersburg, Fla.; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Mrs. Millie Mueller dies

Mrs. Millie L. Mueller, 88, a former Granite City resident, died Tuesday at Arcadio, Calif. She was active in the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Democratic Club and the VFW Auxiliary at Trenton, Ill.

Her husband, Robert L. Mueller, died Nov. 3, 1966. She is survived by one son, Robert E. Mueller, Arcadio, Calif., and three grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

2 hurt in auto-truck accident

A collision between a semi-trailer truck and passenger car at 16th and State streets at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday, resulted in injuries to both drivers.

Mrs. Minnie A. Anderson, 58, of 614 Meredith Ave., Venice, operator of the auto, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by ambulance and admitted for treatment of abrasions and contusions to the right arm, right knee and both legs. She had a series of x-rays taken.

Driver of the truck, George C. Risch of Fowler, Ill., also sustained injuries, police said.

New president of Area College

Appointment and introduction of a new president of Belleville Area College are planned for a special meeting of the Community College District 522 board at 8 o'clock tonight at the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

President H. J. Haberer, a veteran educator, announced plans earlier this year to retire.

4 charged in school break-ins

Burglary charges were filed against each of four Granite City teenagers arrested by police at 1:30 a.m. today in the vicinity of Maryville School, 4651 Maryville Road.

A 15-year-old youth, also apprehended at the scene, was booked on a curfew violation. Booked on two burglary counts each were Edward R. Braun, 18, of 2516 Roney Drive; Diane L. Lampe, 17, of 3112 Edgewood Ave.; Stephen M. Demaree, 18, Rural Route Two, Box 1165; and Kende W. Mitchell, 17, of 22 Fairway Estates. Officers arrived at Maryville School in response to a call that a burglary was in progress. Police said they found one youth standing at the rear of an auto with the trunk lid open.

The youth slammed the lid shut, it was alleged, and ran toward an open field at the rear of the school. Other youths also ran away.

Officers allege the Lampe girl was lying on the floor at the front seat of the vehicle. They said they arrested four other persons a short time later in the area.

Police concluded that a window was broken in the school's rear annex to gain entry. Several arrows and a bow were found at the scene. A box found on top of the Maryville annex was marked "North High," leading the officers to Granite City High School North a short distance away.

At North High, officers said they discovered the building had been entered by climbing from a bicycle rack onto a low roof and dropping through a skylight into the gymnasium. A rear door had been opened to allow access by others into the school.

The athletic store room at North was forcibly entered and tracked, and balls and arrows were found scattered about rooms in the area, it was determined.

An investigation into the burglaries was continuing today by Granite City detectives.

Injured raceway driver improves

William Bagshaw, race car driver who was critically injured Sunday at the St. Louis International Raceway, Route 203, south of Madison, has been transferred from intensive care unit to a hospital room at St. Elizabeth Hospital, St. Louis. He is listed in fair condition.

A spectator at the race, Paul Wagner, 29, of Golden Eagle is listed in good condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital here, following treatment of injuries he received at the Sunday race.

The other two who were injured in the accident, Mrs. Vicki Broadway and Carl Boucherie, are recovering in St. Louis hospitals and are in satisfactory condition.

2 face charges

Informed by neighbors that someone had entered a vacant building at 1207 Rhodes St., police discovered two youths and a man sleeping in the garage at that location at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday. An auto belonging to one youth was parked outside.

In the trunk of the vehicle, officers said they found several items, including five auto batteries with cut cables attached, two auto radiators, electric pliers and three auto bumper jacks.

Charged with burglary and disorderly conduct were Robert G. Austin, 21, of 2219 Fourteenth St., and Robert E. Macke, 17, of 2240 Thirteenth St. A 13-year-old companion was turned over to juvenile authorities.

AUTO-BICYCLE MISHAP

Miss Cindy Wilson, 16, of 2205 St. Clair Ave., was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday for contusions to the right knee and thigh sustained in a mishap between the bicycle she was riding and an auto owned by Troy E. Powell, 3213 Harvard Place, at the Belmore Village Shopping Center parking lot. The girl had sprays taken and was released.

RESTAURANT BURGLARY

A cigarette machine was pried open and a coin box removed in a burglary at Al and Peg's Restaurant, 1207 Nineteenth St., it was reported at 4 a.m. today. Entry was gained by breaking a glass pane in the front door. A list of missing items is being compiled.

FORD'S 1975-MODEL CARS will be priced an average $418 higher at retail than 1974 models, and planned optional-equipment changes will increase retail prices even more. Ford didn't give the boost as a percentage but said it reflects an 8% across-the-board rise in prices charged dealers. American Motors separately lifted some 1974-model car prices 1.5% to 2.8%.

Ford Rise Doesn't Include
Planned Option Changes

By a WALL STREET JOURNAL Staff Reporter
DETROIT—Ford Motor Co. said it plans to increase the average retail price of its 1975 cars by $418 from 1974 models, fulfilling promises of substantial price boosts in the new model year.

Ford didn't say what percentage increase the $418 represented, but did say it reflects an across-the-board rise of 8% in the prices it charges its dealers. These prices, called "advanced billing prices," allow it to sell new models to dealers in advance of the official introduction of the autos in September. The boost doesn't include some planned changes in the optional equipment package, which will have the effect of increasing retail prices still further.

Sharon Ballentine and Randall Norman are wed

Miss Sharon Elizabeth Ballentine and Randall Roy Norman exchanged wedding vows at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of July 27 at the First United Methodist Church of Madison.

Branched candelabra holding white burning tapers were placed on either side of the altar, which was decorated with bouquets of white gladiolus and mums. Aisle standards were festooned with greenery, adding to the setting for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Avis Richardson.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob P. Ballentine, 730 Broadway, Venice. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Norman, reside on Rural Route Four, Jackson, Mo.

Soloist Mike Smith sang "Color My World," "A Time For Us," "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Dorothy Lionberger presided at the organ.

Chantilly lace, embellished with clusters of sequins, accented the organa over taffeta gown worn by the bride. The lace created decorative panels over the bodice, cascading down the skirt to the hemline. Bejeweled lace trimmed the high neckline and cuffs of the bishop sleeves and edged the removable chapel length train.

Her mantilla veil was bordered with Chantilly lace and secured to a camelot headpiece, enhanced with a bow. She carried a traditional bouquet of white carnations and blue baby breath, centered with a corsage.

Miss Terri Williams, maid of honor, and Miss Maria Brawley and Miss Nanette Norman, a sister of the groom, bridesmaids, were identically styled gowns in blue crepe and lace.

Their dresses were designed with lace bodices, long chiffon sleeves and slightly full crepe skirts. Each girl wore a blue picture hat and held a nosegay of white carnations, baby breath and seaforn.

Larry Cuba served the groom as best man. Jeff Spuders and Jack Ballentine, a brother of the bride, were groomsmen. Seating the guests were Matt Freeman and Gary Leaton. A reception was held at the Venice Recreation Center. Miss Betty Decker presided over the guest book.

Sharon was served to the bridal party at the church following a rehearsal on the evening preceding the service.

The bride is a graduate of Venice High School and attended Southeast Missouri State University at Cape Girardeau for a year-and-a-half. She also graduated from Illinois Technical Institute in Granite City.

A graduate of Central High School in Cape Girardeau, the groom also attended Southeast Missouri State University. He is employed as an assistant manager for Drury Restaurants Inc.

Following a wedding trip, the newly married couple will reside in Jonesboro, Ark.

Miss Humphreys, party honoree

A bridal shower was given this week at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church honoring Miss Jo Ann Humphreys. She will be married to Edward Smith on Aug. 24 at the church.

Hosting the affair were Mesdames Jane Kaucher, Catherine Voss, Phyllis Voss and Donna McIlvoy.

After the guest of honor opened her gifts and games were played, punch and cake were served by the hostesses.

The tables were decorated in yellow, pink and blue, the colors to be used in the wedding. Guests attending were Mrs. Robert Humphreys, mother of the honoree, and Mesdames Jo Burmeister, Robert O. Humphreys, Ray Maximer, Tim Patterson, Frank Humphreys, John Schwertmann, Ruby Voss, Earl Voss, Bill Voss, Joe Schwertmann, Opal Voss, Frank Schwertmann, Miss Deborah Voss, Vanessa Cook, Cheryl McIlvoy, Joan Schwertmann, Lori Voss, Sandy Voss, Mary Humphreys, Donna Voss and Karen Wheeler.

MRS. JOE MUCHO, the former Miss Cynthia Blumenstock, whose wedding took place at the Nameoki United Methodist Church. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Blumenstock, 2231 Woodlawn Ave.

(Henry Studin)

Cynthia Blumenstock wed in candlelight ceremony

Miss Cynthia Blumenstock, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Blumenstock, 2231 Woodlawn Ave., and Joe Mucho, son of Mrs. Louie Mank Edwardsville, and John Mucho, 2904 Wayne Ave., were married on Aug. 3 in a candlelight setting at Nameoki United Methodist Church.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at four o'clock in the afternoon was the Rev. William D. Fester.

Preceding the service, Mrs. Steve Burk sang "The Lord's Prayer," "Sunrise, Sunset" and "The Wedding Song." She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Rick Talley.

Misses Susan and Kris Kowalski, cousins of the bride, served as candlelighters, wearing lemon yellow dotted swiss gowns made in Empire style.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a gown of white eyelet lace, designed with a fitted bodice and short cap sleeves.

The oval neckline was defined with a gathered lace ruffle and organza and lace fashioned the very full skirt. The cathedral train was edged with matching decorative lace.

She wore a picture hat trimmed with lace to secure a full length veil and she carried a bouquet of wild flowers.

The honor attendant, Miss Debbie Seebold, and the bridesmaids, Miss Pam Peters, Miss Pat Welle, Mrs. Mark Rigby and Mrs. Ron Thomas, a sister of the groom, were dressed alike in navy blue gowns of dotted swiss voile.

Their frocks were made with Empire bodices, round necklines accented with butterfly collars, and sleeves trimmed with white eyelet. The A-line skirts were long.

Each girl wore a white picture hat with navy blue streamers and carried a nosegay of painted blue and white daisies.

Kelli Basden, the flower girl, wore a dress and hat identical in style to the adult attendants' ensembles. She carried a basket of white rose petals.

David Blumenstock, a nephew of the bride, served as ringbearer.

The groom chose Don Boeger as his best man, Bill Hicks, Gary LeMaster, Ron Thomas, a brother-in-law of the groom, and Richard Blumenstock, the bride's brother, were groomsmen.

Escorting the guests to their seats were Bill Thomas and Dale Beard, the groom's cousin.

GC ok's $25,000 for manuals

Expenditure of $25,000 for the preparation of operating and maintenance manuals for Granite City's secondary sewage treatment plant was authorized by the City Council Monday night on recommendation of Alderman Clyde Boyd, chairman of the Pollution Plant committee.

Boyd told council members that preparation of such manuals are required under rules of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency which will finance 75 per cent of the cost of preparing the books.

The manuals will be prepared by M. W. Engineering, Inc. of St. Louis, special engineers for the secondary treatment plant, and will be subject to approval by EPA, Boyd said. Council members authorized the signing of an agreement with M. W. to prepare the manuals.

Boyd, who also is chairman of the council's Street and Alley committee, also reported that his committee, which includes Aldermen Claude Green and R. E. Robertson, has interviewed seven engineers or engineering firms seeking the job of preparing a feasibility study for construction of an overpass spanning the railroad tracks from downtown Granite City to West Granite.

A recommendation for an appointment will be made to the council after further interviews are conducted, Boyd told the aldermen. "The applicants included some highly qualified engineers and we are certain a satisfactory appointment can be recommended soon," he said.

The overpass, according to present plans, would be built at one of several potential locations — Niedringhaus Avenue, 19th, 20th, or 21st streets — depending upon results of the feasibility study. The city hopes to finance the structure with federal funds provided under the new Federal Aid to Urban System program under which funds will be budgeted for improvement projects over a five-year period.

Council members approved unanimously a resolution calling upon Cong. Melvin Price of this district and U. S. Senators Adlai Stevenson III and Charles Percy to support continued allocation of federal revenue sharing funds, without which the city would have been unable to schedule many current improvement projects or acquire new equipment.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to the legislators. Also approved were payment of $401 expenses to Victor Roening, director of the Granite City Civil Defense unit, to attend the U. S. Civil Defense Conference Oct. 6 to 11 at San Juan, Porto Rico, and an allocation of $150 expenses each to five police officers to attend the National Police Combat Matches Sept. 30 at Jackson, Miss. Settlement of damages not to exceed $300 with Robert Carbaugh, 1620 Spring Ave., whose car was damaged in a collision with a city-owned road grader at Nameoki Road and Manley Avenue, was authorized on recommendation of Eric Robertson, assistant city attorney.

Coin festival scheduled

The 15th annual Coin Festival sponsored by the Missouri Numismatic Society will be held in the Grand Ballroom of the St. Louis Marriott Hotel, Friday and Saturday. The society, organized in 1959, is Missouri's oldest educational coin club. Theme for this year's festival will be the Eads Bridge centennial celebration and will include a display of Banknotes issued during Eads time, immigrant coinage from 1908 to 1974 and a photography exhibit of the original Eads Bridge construction plans photographed by Bob Arteaga. More than 75 coin dealers from throughout the U.S. will attend the festival. A competition of coin exhibits will be held followed by awards presentation, including the traditional "Eric P. Newman Best of Show" award. An auction featuring Jess Peters, veteran auctioneer from Decatur, Ill., will be held Saturday and Sunday. General chairman of the Coin Festival is Charles E. Hileman, Granite City, president of the Missouri Numismatic Society; Robert Knowles, St. Louis, Bourse dealers chairman; Jack Huggins, Belleville, exhibits chairman, and Al Wick, St. Louis, publicity chairman. The Coin Show is open to the public on Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., and on Sunday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission for adults is 50 cents for the three-day event. Children under 12 are admitted free when accompanied by their parents.

Kiwanians to donate carpet

The Granite City Evening Kiwanis club at its Monday meeting in Charlie's Restaurant voted to buy and donate wall to wall carpeting for a basement classroom at McKinley school. The classroom is used in special education work and a rug was felt needed to give added warmth to the room in winter, absorb some of the sound and give the children protection should they fall while playing games.

President Howard Elbertson appointed Kiwanians John Krekovich and Ed Moore as co-chairmen of the Kiwanis Peanut days scheduled Friday and Saturday, Sept. 27 and 28. It was announced that on Sunday, Sept. 15 the group will hold its annual family picnic at Connie Bauer's farm near Edwardsville. Members of the club attending the Kiwanis District convention Aug. 15 through 17 at Decatur, Ill. will be Elbertson, Darrell Weible and Al Gross. Roy Barney was the guest of Kiwanian Allen Jesse.

Leaders plan scouting activities

The Univah District committee held a joint meeting with the Cub Scout and Boy Scout Roundtable groups at the Nameoki Recreation Center, with Dr. Thomas Layloff, district chairman, and Nadene Taylor, Cub Scout roundtable commissioner, in charge.

Jamie Cormier and Scott Foote of Cub Pack 8 led the pledge of allegiance and Dr. Layloff gave the welcoming address.

Mrs. Vee Thorne led the audience in singing "Ravioli," followed by a narration of "Ingredients of a Good Cub Scout."

Jamie Cormier and Charlie Buford of Pack 141, Mitchell School, acted scenes from the story.

Mrs. Thorne instructed the group in playing "Applause and Cheer" and Mrs. Darlene Smith demonstrated the "disappearing knot."

Buford explained the theme "Muscle Builders" for Cub Scouts and "Athlete" for the Webelos by displaying and demonstrating "spring register," "jump rope," "bike inner tube" and "paper crunch."

Scott Foote showed pushups and situps.

Mrs. Phyllis Bruvatti, council chairman for Cub Scout activities, said Sept. 30 is the deadline for units to list boys in the 8-to-10-year-old age group who are winners in physical fitness events in order to complete Oct. 5 at the council level.

Pat Shable in serving as chairman.

Exercises using jousting boards were described by Ron Luebben, with a demonstration being presented by Bob Williams of Troop 24, Charlie Buford, Mick Strange, district camping chairman; and Dr. Layloff.

John Johnson, Boy Scout Roundtable commissioner, participated in a "Siamese Twin Race" with Mark Yehling, Jack Miller, Cloree Grizzard of Pack 22 and Judy Miller of Pack 4.

Sandy Buford of Pack 141 explained the "feats of skill" program and distributed patterns.

Applications for summertime pack awards are to be turned in by Sept. 16, Mrs. Pat Foote said.

Bike safety certificates still are available, she advised.

Other reports were submitted by Bill Kovach concerning updating the merit badge counselors' list and unit visitation by Luebben when school resumes.

Strange reviewed the program at Camp Sunnen, starting an A rating was receiving during a national inspection.

The Order of the Arrow conclave and Ordeal for honor campers will take place this weekend, he said, adding that 44 youths will depart this week for the Boy Scout high adventure program at Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico.

Miller said a training seminar is planned for leaders on Sept. 7, and a recruitment event will be held Sept. 27 to Sept. 29 at Camp Sunnen for new recruits.

"School Night for Scouting" is being arranged at all area schools on Sept. 19, with a kickoff program scheduled Aug. 15 at St. Margaret, Mary Church, Mrs. Foote reported.

Mrs. Arlene Laub will serve as chairman of a den leaders' tea on Oct. 8 at the First Granite City National Bank. A den leader of the year will be recognized and an award will be presented at that time, it was announced.

"Land of Make Believe" will be the theme of the Sept. 10 Cub Scout Roundtable at Coolidge Junior High School.

Homecoming to start revival at Mitchell First Baptist

An all-day homecoming program on Sunday, Aug. 18 will mark the 13th anniversary of the First Baptist Church, 608 English Place, Mitchell, and will precede the church's annual revival, according to the Rev. W. J. Richardson, interim pastor.

Services will be conducted Aug. 19 during the day, with a basket dinner planned for 1 p.m.

All former pastors and members are invited to attend the observance, the Rev. Richardson added.

The church was started by a few dedicated workers from Calvary Baptist Church in Granite City, the pastor said, noting it has continued in the Southern Baptist faith throughout the years.

Directing the revival, set for Aug. 19-25, will be three sons of the Rev. Richardson.

The Rev. William D. Richardson, the eldest son, has just returned from Ghana, West Africa, where he served as a foreign missionary for 10 years.

The Rev. David T. Richardson was associate pastor at Third Baptist Church, 2601 Grand Ave., and presently is moving to Chattanooga, Tenn., to become the music director at Concord Baptist Church.

The third son, the Rev. James J. Richardson, is the current educational and music director at the Dayton Avenue Baptist Church, Peoria, Ill.

The three Richardson sons will sing and play musical instruments together, direct the music and work with the children and young people. The Rev. Richardson also will preach the gospel for the full period of the revival, it was reported.

The public is invited to attend all services at the Mitchell church, the Rev. Richardson said.

Mr., Mrs. Mike Gancheff to mark golden wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gancheff, 1201 Iowa St., Madison, will observe their golden wedding anniversary from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday at a party given by their children in the Fellowship Hall at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road.

Lifelong residents of Madison, Mrs. Gancheff and her husband were married on Aug. 17, 1924, in Granite City by Justice of the Peace Charles Sowell.

Mr. Gancheff was employed for 41 years at General Steel Industries prior to his retirement in 1962.

The couple has two children, Mrs. William (Dorothy) Hamilton and John Gancheff, both of Granite City. They also have eight grandchildren.

YMCA seniors

see Redbirds win

Members of the Tri-Cities Area YMCA Senior Citizens Club attended the St. Louis Cardinals-Philadelphia Phillies baseball game Saturday at Busch Stadium and saw the Redbirds win 4-3 to take first place in the National League's Eastern Division.

Twenty-one club members met last week at the YMCA and were entertained with a movie showing customs and activities in other countries, including Korea and Taiwan. The film was presented by Harold Rudolph, YMCA executive director.

Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, president, was in charge of the meeting. She invited all men and women who are 50 years plus to attend sessions held at the Y each Friday from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Many special events are planned by the group, including a trip to Grant's Farm, St. Louis, tomorrow, she said.

Quitting and games occupied part of the time and a sack lunch was served at noon.

Badgett-Lindner nuptials at St. Elizabeth Church

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence J. Mattingly performed a double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. July 26 at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, uniting in marriage Miss Donna Marie Lindner, a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Lindner, 2329 Orville Ave., and the late Donald Lindner, and Jerry G. Badgett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Badgett, 2201 Robert Ave.

An aunt of the bride, Miss Margaret Carey of St. Louis, sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "Ave Maria." She was accompanied at the organ by Miss Peggy Smolich.

Escorted down the aisle by her uncle, James Kenneth Abrams, the former Miss Lindner wore a floor length white organza gown designed with a modded bodice and high neckline edged in Venice lace. The long bishop sleeves were accented with matching lace, and the flared skirt forming a chapel length train was encircled with a deep ruffled flounce marked with daisy lace.

She wore a fingertip veil attached to a lace camelot headpiece and carried a bouquet of summer blossoms. Mrs. Billy Badgett, a sister-in-law of the groom, and Miss Debbie Lindner, the bride's sister, served as matron of honor and bridesmaid.

Sheri and Heather Badgett, nieces of the groom, served as flower girls.

The attendants were attired in identical dresses of pink polyester flecked with daisies. They were created in Empire style with short puff sleeves and a low round neckline edged with a wide ruffle.

Each girl wore a pale pink picture hat trimmed with streamers in a darker shade of pink and held a wicker basket of white daisy pom poms, pink Sweetheart roses and baby breath.

Billy Badgett and Jeff Badgett, both brothers of the groom, served as best man and groomsmen. Seating the guests were Richard Blason, the bride's cousin, and Scott Badgett, also a brother of the groom.

A reception was held at Tempel's Smorgasbord following the ceremony. Miss Donna Lindner, a cousin of the bride, presided over the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Badgett, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner in their home. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lindner selected a formal pink gown made with an Empire bodice, long tapered sleeves and a slightly gathered skirt. A white decorative trim formed the high stand-up collar and defined the high rise waistline.

Mrs. Badgett, mother of the groom, appeared in a long Empire style gown of blue chiffon created with full sheer sleeves.

The newly married couple will reside in Granite City following a wedding trip to Orlando, Fla.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The former Miss Lindner attended Belleville Area College and is now employed by McDonnell Automation Co., Belleville. Mr. Badgett is employed by the Norfolk and Western Railroad.

Shower fetes Miss Francis

Miss Beverly Francis was complimented at a bridal shower given at Polish Hall in Madison by aunts of the prospective groom, Mrs. Eric Mooshegan, Mrs. William Steiner, Mrs. Louis Sueich, Mrs. Mary Venorsky and Mrs. Ann Tanase.

The honoree will become the bride of Michael Moul III on Sept. 21 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Miss Francis was assisted in opening her gifts by members of her bridal party, Miss Pat Sedie, Miss Carla Francis, Miss Pat Steiner and Miss Laura Oakley.

Following games, a buffet luncheon was served by the hostesses to Mesdames Ann Mega, Frances Polate, Dorothy Koliste and Karen, Vera Smolar, Jean Lucido, Jean Nunn, Elsie Flach and Donna, Helen Galinski, Marlene Brandt, Elizabeth Sueich, Carol Makler, Helen Wagner.

Mesdames Mary Gnojewski, Carol Gnojewski, Margie Lylera, Mary Kay Steiner, Carol Nolan, Jean Zotti, Camille Papes, Katie Baumgartner.

Ivelyn Loubek, Dottie Venangan, Dorothy Bell, Frances Latsevic, Josephine Yurko. Mesdames Adele Balcer, Ann Mooshegan, Helen Krakowiecki, Diana Baumgartner, Vickie Piel, Nellie Deau, Josephine Blasas, Gert Fluch and daughters, Lee Cook, Dorothy Geroff, and Mrs. Oscar Francis and Mrs. Katie Stefanac, grandmothers of the engaged couple.

DEGREE AWARDED Miss Shelby J. Hileman, 3102 E. 23rd St., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hileman, has received an Associate Science degree from Belleville Area College. Miss Hileman has attended the college for the past two years.

Kathleen Jernigan weds Airman Charles Basden

The wedding of Miss Kathleen Jernigan, a daughter of Mrs. Clara Layton, 2603 E. 24th St. and Airman First Class Charles Basden, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Basden, 2632 North St., was solemnized at 11 a.m. on July 27 at St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Paul Mabry sang "Sunrise, Sunset," "The Wedding Song," and "Ave Maria," accompanied at the organ by Jack Jenkins. Bouquets of multi-colored majestic daisies decorated the altar for the double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Henry Mack and the Rev. Kenneth V. Reeves.

Francis Jernigan escorted his sister down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She wore a long gown fashioned with fitted bodice, high stand-up neckline and long semi fitted sleeves in Chiny lace and a slightly gathered skirt of white organza.

A wide double ruffle of matching lace formed the flounce at the skirt hemline. Her chapel veil edged with a delicate lace trim was held in place with a halo headpiece and she carried a colonial bouquet of daisies, stephanotis and baby breath.

Miss Terry Crawford, maid of honor, was attired in a full-length, sleeveless dress of pale pink floral voile complemented with a long sleeved jacket. Bridesmaids Miss Beverly Gray, Miss Debbie Steinman, Mrs. Susan Jernigan, a sister-in-law of the bride and Miss Theresa Basden, the groom's sister chose identical styled gowns in pastel shades of lilac, blue, green and yellow.

The attendants were wide-brimmed picture hats with ribbon streamers in colors of their attire and held colonial bouquets of daisies intermingled with ribbon loops. Terry Rigby served as best man. Groomsmen were James Anderson, Nick Harper, Sonny Puhse and Francis Jernigan. Escorting the guests to their seats were Garry Rains and Garry Fuller, both cousins of the groom.

The newly married couple received guests at a reception held at the Croatian Home in Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Basden, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner in their home.

Mrs. Layton, the bride's mother, selected a full-length apricot chiffon gown featuring a smocked bodice. The groom's mother, Mrs. Basden, chose a long multi-colored, blue A-line style dress with long sleeves. Both mothers wore white accessories and corsages of white roses and Elegance carnations.

The newlyweds are residing in Granite City following a honeymoon trip to the Ozarks. They will depart on Aug. 31 for Italy where the groom will be stationed with the Air Force.

They are graduates of Granite City High School. The former Miss Jernigan attended Blackburn College, Carlinville, for two years where she majored in psychology and math. She now is working at Midwest Card Co., St. Louis.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Clara Toth, Mrs. Albert McMenamin, Mrs. Dora James, Mr. and Mrs. John Basden and family, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Basden, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Basden and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rains and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Klink and family, Mr. and Mrs. August Presutti and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Presutti and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edwards.

COMMISSIONING FOR REV. MRS. RAMA DIAL The Rev. and Mrs. Rudolph Hickerson, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Smith and Mr. and Mrs. William Dickerson attended a commissioning and ordination service at the West Side General Baptist Church during the weekend for the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Ramadial, who are going to Jamaica.

Mrs. Sharon Ramadial is the daughter of the Rev. Lloyd Stone, pastor of the West Side Church. He gave the charge to the couple at the service.

Other churches of the Ill-Mo Association were represented at the meeting.

Guthrie, Souther, Vaughan at River Festival next week

A variety of pop attractions fill the Mississippi River Festival calendar Aug. 12 through Aug. 16. The 6:30 p.m. programs will consist of experimental films on Monday; Arlo Guthrie on Tuesday; Souther, Hillman and Furry on Wednesday; and Sarah Vaughan with the Duke Ellington Orchestra conducted by Mercer Ellington on Friday, Aug. 16.

All will be held under the festival tent at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Two experimental films will be shown under the tent on Aug. 12.

"Scarecrow in a Garden of Cucumbers" directed by Robert Kadan, with music by Bette Midler, is a "spot on everything from Women's Lib to the 'in crowd,'" notes Modern Screen.

Holly Woodlawn stars as Eve Harrington, who achieves unreal stardom and a broken heart as she tries to become a Broadway star.

"The Virgin President" chronicles the state of the nation when a monumental incompetent becomes president. It features Chicago's Second City Company and is directed by Graeme Ferguson.

Arlo Guthrie makes his second MRF appearance on Tuesday evening, Aug. 13; he last performed at SIUE in 1969. Son of famed Woody Guthrie, Arlo is creating his own legend and has become a classic musical personality, many say. Born in Coney Island, N.Y., in 1947, he was juggling around the Guthrie living room playing the harmonica for the famed Leadbelly at the age of three. He began writing songs at an early age and ended his formal education after six months at college in order to "do more writing."

He is particularly noted for the "Talking Blues" in which he presents a theme and adorns it with his often hilarious narratives, liberally salted with his favorite adjective, "wierd." "Alices Restaurant" and "The City of New Orleans" are only two of the many hits which he has recorded on the Reprise label.

John David Souther, Chris Hillman and Richie Furay star at the River Festival on Wednesday, Aug. 14. They have just released a new Aylum album titled "The Souther, Hillman, Furay Band," which contains their original compositions in the country rock style for which they are famous.

Three other instrumentalists complete their group: Paul Harris, keyboard; Jim Gordon, drums; and Al Perkins, steel guitar.

Souther, who hails from Los Angeles, played with the Eagles on some of their albums and also with the Allman Brothers at the 1973 Kiel Auditorium concert.

His own solo album, entitled "John David Souther," was released in 1973. Souther helped produce Linda Ronstadt's latest album and last appeared in the St. Louis area at Chuck Berry's farm.

The Flying Burrito Brothers gave Chris Hillman his start. He then went to the Byrds, followed by Manassas (then the backup group for Stephen Stills).

He plays bass, guitars and mandolin in addition to co-authoring many of the band's hits.

Richie Furay founded the Buffalo Springfield and then left to join Poco with Jim Messina. Like Souther, he does guitar and vocals.

On Friday evening, Aug. 16, MRF presents a special tribute to Duke Ellington, with Mercer Ellington conducting the orchestra and songs by Sarah Vaughan singing in the "sassy" style that led Tony Bennett to call her "the finest singer in the world."

Duke Ellington wrote his music for the performer, in most cases his orchestra.

He said, "It's not the notes that are important, it's who they're written for."

His son, Mercer, has noted that one of Duke's greatest abilities was his gift for "creating tension with subtle riffs than raucous sounds."

"I've concertgoers will get a wild sampling of Duke's musical creations."

Sarah Vaughan grew up in Newark, N.J., in a household constantly filled with music.

She developed into a sensitive singer who moved with the musical times from early jazz to the "One Mint Julep" to Michael Legrand and the Beatles and Bacharach.

She began her career in an amateur contest at the Apollo Theatre in Harlem when she was noticed by Billy Eckstine. A year later, she joined Eckstine's band and made her first recording, "I'll Wait and I'll Pray." Her second record, "It's Magic," sold two million copies.

After her brief stint with Eckstine's band, Sarah joined the John Kirby Combo, but has since worked as a single using her own trio.

Tickets for the films at MRF are priced at $2 general admission and for all other performances cost at $3 to $6.50. They may be purchased at all bi-state area box offices.

Steal weapons, two lawnmowers

Burglars entered the home of James Black, 2207 Rock Road, and stole items worth $56, the owner reported at 5:10 p.m. Monday. Entry into the dwelling was made through a basement window.

Missing are two lawnmowers, valued at $150; a 22 rifle, $75; a 12-gauge single barrel shotgun, $75; an antique single barrel shotgun, $100; a fishing tackle box, $20; fishing tackle and equipment, $100; and $25 cash.

More aid to school lunches

About one million hungry Illinois school children were fed lunch each day last school year, the superintendent of public instruction has reported. Of this number, about 300,000 were fed without charge.

To help meet the burden of funding lunch and breakfast programs, the federal government has announced a $6 million increase in its share of food reimbursement to Illinois school districts for the coming school year. Last year, Illinois received more than $61 million in federal reimbursements.

The largest increase goes for free lunches, with the average reimbursement going from 25 to 49.5 cents. The other rates are as follows:

—All lunches: from 10.5 cents to 11 cents.

—Reduced price lunches: from 37.5 to 39.5 cents.

—All breakfasts: from 8.5 to 8.75 cents.

—Reduced price breakfasts: from 15.75 to 16.5 cents.

—Free breakfasts: from 21 to 22 cents.

In addition to the federal funds, the state also picks up a portion of the food cost.

"Since 1969, the state has reimbursed each school 15 cents per lunch," explains Jim Burke, assistant director of school food services for the state.

Reimbursements are made through his division.

"In addition, another 15 cents is reimbursed for free breakfasts served in certain portions of the state."

Burke indicated that the majority of breakfast programs are located in Chicago, with a scattering of programs elsewhere throughout the state.

Free lunches were required in Illinois public schools 15 September 1970, and are served to members of families whose total income does not exceed federally established guidelines. The guidelines also have been recently changed.

For example, free lunches are available to a child coming from a family of four whose income does not exceed $5,440, while a child from a family of six may get a free lunch if his household income does not exceed $7,010.

In addition, children may also receive reduced price meals (20 cents or less for lunch) if the four-member family's income is below $7,900 or the six-member family's income is below $10,240.

In addition to the increase in monetary reimbursement, another new law guarantees schools not less than 10 cents in food commodities for each lunch served.

If market conditions make it unfeasible for the federal government to buy commodities, schools will be allotted an additional 10 cents per lunch.

Tom T. Hall and Hagers to bring Nashville sound here

Country and western music will fill the air at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Mississippi River Festival guest artists Friday will include Tom T. Hall, Melba Montgomery and The Hagers.

All are prominent in music emanating from the recording studios in Nashville, Tenn.

Hall's song, "Harper Valley PTA," brought him national acclaim in 1968 when it was recorded by Jeannie C. Riley. He has had at least one of his songs on national popularity charts consistently for more than eight years.

Hall plays guitar and is a specialist in story telling and in describing people.

Between his song writing chores, he travels with a five-piece band and plays and sings at fairs, night clubs and colleges.

The Hager twins, Jim and Jon, are from Chicago. They are among the stars of the "Hee Haw" television series.

Jon Hager plays rhythm instruments and Jim plays the guitar. Both mix their singing and musical ability with comedy.

Park preschool registration

Registration for the Granite City Park District's pre-school program will be conducted from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 13, at the Wilson Park office.

Classes will begin in September at Nameoki Recreation Center, according to Harold Brown, park superintendent.

To be eligible to attend the twice-weekly sessions, youngsters must be park district residents and have reached the age of 4 years by Oct. 1, 1974.

Proof of residency, such as a utility bill receipt, is required at the time of registration, Brown advised.

No charge is made for participation in the pre-school program with the exception of a daily fee of 10 cents for refreshments, the park officer said.

Air Force has Buddy openings

The United States Air Force is now accepting applications from this area for a Buddy Flight for the months of February, March and April 1975.

To qualify for this program, a young man must be between the ages of 17 and 24, in good health, and of high moral character. High school graduate or equivalent is desirable.

Selected for the flight, these young men will complete six weeks basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex., then will proceed to the Air Force Tech School.

country, folk, pop, rock, contemporary jazz and blues.

Melba Montgomery plays the guitar and fiddle and once sang in a church choir. She won a talent contest in Nashville and joined Roy Acuff's Smokie Mountain band.

A soloist since 1962, she has recorded such current favorites as "No Charge" and "He'll Come Home."

RUGGERIO RICCI. The violinist will be guest soloist with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at the Mississippi River Festival on the SIUE campus.

Violinist and Andre Kostelanetz scheduled

St. Louis Symphony concerts at the Mississippi River Festival Aug. 10 and 11 will be conducted by guest violinist Ruggerio Ricci and guest conductor Andre Kostelanetz.

The Saturday evening concert, which begins at 8:30, will be conducted by Walter Susskind.

He has chosen a program of Mozart's Symphony No. 36, "Linz"; Strauss' Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks; and two works by Dvorak featuring Ricci—Romance for Violin and Orchestra, and Violin Concerto.

Ricci is one of the few musicians of world stature to have made a successful transition from child prodigy to mature master.

He made his New York debut at the age of nine in 1929 and first performed with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra four years later, playing the Symphonie espagnole of Lalo.

He last appeared with the orchestra in 1971 at Powell Symphony Hall.

During the last few years, Ricci has undertaken concerts and recordings as leader of the City of London Chamber Ensemble, a hand-picked chamber orchestra in which he is both conductor and solo violinist.

He also has initiated recitals featuring the violin in duos with other instruments.

For Sunday's 7:30 p.m. concert, Kostelanetz returns to the Mississippi River Festival.

He appears regularly as guest conductor of major symphony orchestras throughout the world and has contributed much to widening classical listening audiences.

He is called "the champion of recordings" and in the last 20 years the public has purchased over 45 million Kostelanetz records.

For his concert with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, Kostelanetz will conduct Mozart's Overture to "The Marriage of Figaro"; Debussy's Printemps and Prelude to "The Afternoon of a Faun"; Respighi's Pines of Rome; R. Strauss' Waltzes from "Der Rosenkavalier"; and Lehar's Suite from "The Merry Widow."

Tickets for Saturday's concert are priced from $2 to $5.50 and for Sunday $3 to $6.50.

Research, development tops $32 billion yearly

Research and development spending in the United States has risen to an estimated $32 billion for 1974, according to the latest National Science Foundation report. The report covers funding for the federal government, industrial firms, colleges and universities, and non-profit institutions.

John Rodman, coordinator of the Research and Projects Office of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville

Graduate School, said this week that spending for research and development in the U. S. is five per cent above the 1973 level, but the figure actually is a decrease in terms of "inflation-free constant dollars."

Federal government expenditures for research and development are estimated at more than $17 billion for 1974. This is an increase of three per cent over 1973 figures.

Federal agencies are expected to contribute 53 per cent of total research and development funds, 60 per cent of basic research spending, and 52 per cent of applied research and development funding.

Rodman said the second largest source of such funds is industry, which will fund an estimated $12.3 billion in 1974, up more than seven per cent from $12.3 billion expended in 1973.

The SIUE spokesman said colleges and universities emphasize basic research, accounting for 14 per cent of the nation's research-development effort; 83 per cent of the development work is performed by industrial firms.

The report estimates that 531,000 scientists and engineers were employed in research and development during 1973, and increase of one per cent over 1972. Nearly 70 per cent of the research-development professionals worked for industrial firms.

Busy day for Democrats at Illinois Fair

There won't be any stuffy formality on Democratic Day at the Illinois State Fair. Democrats will be sloshing through watermelon eating contests, chasing greased pigs and dining on bratwurst and beer, a spokesman said this week.

They will compete Aug. 15 in tug-of-wars, three-legged races, egg throwing contests and contests for the oldest Democrat and the prettiest Democrat in Illinois.

There will be events for Democrats of all ages from all parts of Illinois — every kind of event except long speeches.

Democratic Day actually begins the night before, with a live band entertaining at a cocktail party. The party is in the St. Nicholas Hotel at 9 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 14. The "Salt and Pepper" group will provide the music.

Early morning on Thursday, Aug. 15, is set aside for touring the State Fair, called the biggest and best in Illinois history.

A beer and bratwurst lunch begins at 11 a.m. on the lawn of Terry and Diane Lutes, inside the fairgrounds.

Democratic Day contests will be held from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. The contests and races will take place in the Conservation Area. Judging for the best Democratic campaign posters and bumper stickers also will be held.

After the events, prizes and trophies will be awarded.

At 3:30 p.m., a more serious note will be reached when state officials will be introduced. They will welcome the Democrats.

Cocktail parties at the Forum 22XX and St. Nicholas Hotel starting at 4:30 p.m. Aug. 15 will round out the Democratic Day activities.

Charles E. Roller studies at Rolla

Charles Edward Roller, 4027 Alton Road was one of 12 high school juniors from three states who participated in a Summer Science Training Program at the University of Missouri-Rolla. Courses of study included thermal and materials science, energy conversion and environmental engineering.

The program is designed to provide a unique educational experience for outstanding high school juniors who are particularly interested in the fields of science and engineering.

Students participating in the program were given a real taste of college life. Each morning during the week they attended three classes. Laboratory sessions were scheduled two afternoons a week. Each student was expected to complete a certain amount of homework in each class and write formal reports on laboratory experiments.

SEEK MORE COUPONS
The Madison County Association for Retarded Children still is seeking Betty Crocker coupons to be used toward the purchase of safety playground equipment. The organization has acquired $300 toward the equipment, but needs further funds. Coupons may be mailed to Terry Gallina, project chairman, at 240 Greiner St., Edwardsville, 62025.

Full records can lead to tax saving on farms

Farmers don't need a green thumb to reap tax savings. What they do need is accurate records, an Internal Revenue Service spokesman has reported.

The income tax law does not require an elaborate system of bookkeeping and most farmers probably do not need one. All the law requires is that a taxpayer's records adequately reflect the income declared and the deductions and credits taken on the tax return, it was explained.

A typical set of records in use on a farm might include the following books: a farm income and expense record, a depreciation record, an employee compensation record, and the business checkbook.

The income and expense record lists cash farm receipts by date, item, quantity and total dollar amount under headings corresponding to the most common income sources for a farmer, such as livestock purchased or raised for resale and commodity credit loans.

This daily account book also lists cash farm expenses in much the same way under such typical expenditure headings as feed purchased, supplies, taxes and insurance.

The headings for receipts and expenses can be conveniently taken from Schedule F, the farm income and expense attachment to a federal income tax return, the spokesman said. Use of this record will make next year's Schedule F easier to complete.

A second basic record in use on many farms is the depreciation record. This is a book kept on a continuous basis describing all depreciable farm assets — from buildings to machines and livestock, the date the objects were acquired, their cost and salvage value, the depreciation method used, and the amount depreciated each year.

This record will not only enable a farmer to compute depreciation deductions. It also will help him determine the amount of investment credit — the amount the law permits a farmer to subtract directly from his income taxes because of certain depreciable property used on the farm during the year.

An employee compensation record also should be kept for each employee, whether full or part time. It should show the number of hours the employee worked in a pay period, his total pay and his withheld deductions, it was related.

A farmer needs to keep a similar record for himself to establish his earnings for Social Security purposes. Future benefits hinge on it.

The most basic business record is the business checkbook. Not only does it keep tab on what a farmer pays out for business purposes; it is also the key to maintaining the farm income and expense record.

These books, if properly maintained, can yield the farmer a number of tax benefits. For instance, they will ensure that the taxpayer takes full deductions and credits. They will distinguish taxable income from receipts that should not be taxed. And they will help the taxpayer take advantage of the preferential tax treatment of the profits realized from the sale of certain farm assets.

Most important, good tax records will help answer questions raised at an IRS audit.

If a farmer needs help in setting up a record keeping system, all he has to do is call, write or visit an Internal Revenue Service office, the spokesman said.

The IRS will provide a booklet that describes a simplified bookkeeping procedure, along with other tax advice designed especially for farmers.

This booklet, the "Farmer's Tax Guide" (Publication 225), is available free from country agents or IRS offices.

RESERVE MECHANIC. Sgt. Edward Dennis of Granite City, right, assists active duty aircraft mechanic Sergeant Harold Gencoppe adjust a push-pull rod on landing gear during the two-week reserve military training at Scott Air Force Base.

More than 200 area men and women donned Air Force blue uniforms to serve two weeks of annual military training at Scott Air Force Base.

As members of an elite reserve unit, the 832nd Aeromedical Airlift Group, they assumed duties as aircraft crew members, nurses, medical flight technicians, aircraft mechanics, and specialists in law, dentistry, civil engineering, communications, personnel and many other support functions.

The unit, which is composed of more than 400 residents from the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan area, is the only one of its kind in the nation. Serving as a ready backup of the 375th Aeromedical Airlift Wing at Scott, the reservists work side-by-side with their active duty counterparts.

They are actively involved in airlifting almost 6,000 patients each month to medical facilities throughout the country. And for its efforts, the 832nd recently received the Air Force's Outstanding Unit Award for "exceptionally meritorious service in support of military operations."

La Col. Irving D. Richardson, the 832nd's commander, said the Air Force is depending more and more on reserve units to become integral parts of the total force policy—relying upon an all-volunteer force. And so far, Richardson said, the unit is fulfilling that obligation. "All our flying time is spent

Orientation for Assumption High

The doors of the new consolidated Assumption High School at East St. Louis will open with orientation sessions scheduled from Aug. 20 to 23 for students and their parents.

Each of the four divisions will attend a separate evening session beginning at 7 p.m. The divisions will report according to this schedule: freshmen on Tuesday, Aug. 20; sophomores on Wednesday, Aug. 21; juniors on Thursday, Aug. 22; and seniors on Friday, Aug. 23. The school will include former Assumption boys and St. Teresa Academy girls. The program is planned so that both parents and students will have the opportunity to see the new school, to learn about it and to meet the faculty.

The design of the sessions will place the participants in direct contact with many of the school's programs so that they will become acquainted with the operational procedures. Because of the informational nature of the program, it is necessary that parents accompany their sons and daughters to these sessions, an official said.

A general, introductory session will be held in the gym each evening and will be followed by a tour of informational stations.

This will include a visit with representatives of some of the major programs, such as: teacher-advisor, pastoral ministry, guidance and counseling, academics, finances, parents' club and extracurricular activities. An abbreviated form of the students' schedule will introduce the students and parents to the classes and teachers as well as to the school's modular system. Each evening's orientation session will close with a question-answer period in the gym and a student-parent-teacher social hour.

Steve Brown assigned to youth work at Vietnam

The 10th and largest group of Southern Baptist missionary journeymen since the program was initiated in 1965 was commissioned at Foreign Mission Board headquarters in Richmond, Va.

The 77 new journeymen bring the total number commissioned to 628. Among those assigned was Steve Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brown, 42 Shirwin Drive, who will be employed as a youth work at Danang, South Vietnam.

Brown obtained his B.A. degree in anthropology at the University of Illinois, Urbana, this year. He is a member of the Winestanley Baptist Church of Fairview Heights. He was born in East St. Louis and also is a former resident of Little Rock, Ark.

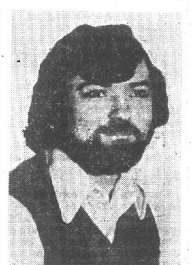

Executive secretary, Baker J. Cauthen, speaking before the capacity crowd, said to the journeymen, "There never has been a time when a group of people have been privileged to go into a world that is more genuinely in need of what you go to do than right now."

Journeymen are college graduates no older than 26 who work for two years alongside career missionaries in specific job assignments overseas.

Job assignments include teaching, preaching, communications, nursing, youth and student work, agricultural work, business administration, bookkeeping and secretarial work.

Of the new journeymen, 18 were commissioned for South America, 17 for East Asia, 11 to East and Southern Africa, 10 to Southeast Asia, eight to Europe and the Middle East, eight to Middle America and the Caribbean and five to West Africa.

the journeymen completed seven weeks of special training at Meredith College, Raleigh, N.C.

Registration at East St. Louis

Registration for classes and programs at the East St. Louis Center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 20 and 21, according to Harold L. Jason, assistant director of the office of programs and supportive services at the center.

Germania's Savings Passbook was great

Germania's New Prestige Card and Statement Savings Account is even better.

Now, with a new Germania Federal 5 1/4% regular savings account, you no longer need a passbook. It's been replaced by a handy wallet-sized "Prestige Card" that identifies you and your account.

In addition to the "Prestige Card," each new "Statement Savings Account" will receive a quarterly statement. This new statement gives you more information so you can keep your records more up-to-date.

- Your quarterly statement includes:
- A complete record of the date of each transaction including deposits or withdrawals or transfer of funds.
 - The interest added during the quarter and your year-to-date earnings.
 - Total deposits and withdrawals during the quarter.

We do all the figuring by computer and pass it on to you. So you know the exact status of your account. At a glance you know everything about every transaction that's taken place.

What's more, the new Prestige Card even makes it possible for you to transfer funds from your bank to a Germania Federal Statement Savings Account through our Transmatic Service.

In short, it makes money management easier than ever. If you would like to take advantage of this new service or transfer your existing Passbook Account, stop in or call Germania Federal for more information.

Word has been received here of the death of Charles Briggs of Fairfield, N. Car., formerly a resident of this area for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. George Staggs, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Spiroff and son, Terry, and Mrs. Helen Achors spent the weekend touring and sightseeing in Nashville, Tenn.

BAPTISM FOR TWINS
Sheri Leigh Wright and Kevin Donald Wright, twin children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wright, 494 Breckenridge Lane, were baptized Sunday afternoon at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. Monsignor Lawrence Mattingly officiated.

Godparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Roz of Cicero, Ill. Also present were the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Snider and Mrs. Joseph D. Wright; great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sturumski; and Miss Tina Snider.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was held at the parent's home.

WATERMELON SOCIAL
The adult training class of Pontoon Baptist Church hosted a watermelon social Sunday following the evening worship service.

Those attending were Harold McBride and daughter, Lisa, the Rev. and Mrs. Gus Falter Jr. and daughter, Becky, Douglas Harvey and daughters, Debbie and Barbara, Miss Tammy Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Jim White and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Carver and daughters, Amy and Janice, Mr. and Mrs. James Flowers and daughters, Laura Lee and Susan, Mrs. Leta Kollenburn, Charles Sturdivant and daughter, JoAnn, and son, Johnnie, Mrs. Helen Burgess, Eddie Cavar, Mrs. Mary Lee Keil and children, Sherri, Rusty and Ritchie, Mrs. Allen Emert and children, Traci, Jimmie and Craig, and Miss Dana Johnston.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Collins have returned from a two-week visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Dickerson, in Piedmont, Mo. Mrs. Dickerson had been hospitalized and is recuperating at home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dickerson returned Monday evening from Piedmont, Mo.; they had gone there to visit his mother, who is ill.

Scholarships topics of club

The Venice Women's Club met during the weekend at the Venice Recreation Center to discuss its annual scholarship program, which will be voted on in September.

A financial report was submitted by Mrs. Ilsa Bauer, secretary, in the absence of Mrs. Bertha Pace, treasurer. Mesdames Alice Mitchell, Melba Elgan, Sybil Robba and Mamie Ponce served on the hostess committee and provided games and prizes as the entertainment.

A dessert course was served from tables decorated in a summer theme. Baskets of fruit, vases of red geraniums and crystal candle holders with red candles were used as centerpieces.

Others attending were Mesdames Jessie Foley, Effie Owens, Mary Miller, Rhea Buente, Vivian McKinney, Ora Anderson, Naomi Boelling, Elsie Cavar, Rose Scaturro, Ruth Cavar, Josephine Johnisee, Margaret Seibert, Nora McCoid, Aline Patterson and Madonna Greshong.

New BPW members attend tea

The Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club held its first "Orientation Tea" of the season at the East Side Levee and Sanitary District office on Madison Avenue.

The occasion served to acquaint new club members with the aims and objectives of the BPW organization. Miss Annellen Smith, president, and Mrs. Lois Wetton, membership chairman, were in charge. A question and answer period was held and a "new members' committee" was organized by Mrs. Wetton. Serving as chairman will be Mrs. Barbara Hodges.

The remainder of the evening was spent socially. Prizes were awarded and refreshments were served. Others attending the tea were Rosemary Basden, Sylvia Wright, Genevieve Haddix, Ruth Walk, Marie Bereson, Joanne Page, Regina James, LaValle, Stephens, Maxine

Rollettes fete Mrs. Jackson

Mrs. Sharon Jackson was honored on her birthday by the Rollettes Club on Monday evening at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Joyce Waller, 2052 Rhodes St., Madison.

Games were played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Betty Brooks, Mrs. Reatta Radefeld and a guest, Mrs. Cheryl Briggs. During the social hour, new secret pal names were selected and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Others present were Mesdames Helen Warfield, Connie Tinsley, Jeanette Wilson, Mary Ann Buttone, Edith Wofford, Diana Wilson and another guest, Mrs. Jerry Turner. Mrs. Brooks invited the club to her home for the next party.

Substantiated evidence places clear responsibility on Congress and Senate to proceed to impeach, convict and remove Mr. Nixon as nation's President

On May 9 we concluded editorially that there was "no alternative to impeachment" of President Richard M. Nixon. We were not the first to reach and voice this belief, but it was still somewhat lonely out on that editorial limb. A short time later, a number of other newspapers which had studied transcripts of White House conversations also called for impeachment.

Fast-moving events early this week appeared to assure that Mr. Nixon will be replaced by Gerald Ford as President.

Many of those who opposed the three impeachment articles approved by the House Judiciary Committee last week reversed themselves Monday and urged resignation or removal from office through impeachment and conviction.

There is no joy in seeing such a national tragedy unfold, but it is essential for the preservation of freedom and democracy that the United States Constitution be placed ahead of any individual, no matter how high his office.

Unless we remain a nation of laws, not of a specific leader, the bright candle of liberty in the history of mankind will have been extinguished.

Particularly with the new transcripts divulged this week, it seems certain that the following Judiciary Committee allegations are being firmly established as fact.

Mr. Nixon violated his Constitutional oath faithfully to execute the office of President. He declined to act to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution. He failed to uphold the law and instead obstructed and impeded the administration of justice.

Using the powers of his office, he engaged personally and through subordinates in conduct to cover up unlawful entry at the Democratic national headquarters and to protect those responsible for the burglary.

Aspects of this policy included making false or misleading statements, withholding relevant and material evidence and information, counseling witnesses to give false or incomplete testimony, interfering with investigations, conducting surreptitious payments to influence testimony or silence, misusing federal agencies, deceiving citizens into believing that thorough investigations were being made, causing individuals to expect favored treatment for silence or false testimony, and subverting constitutional government by undermining the processes of law and justice.

There were repeated violations of Americans' constitutional rights, inequitable administration of tax laws, illegal surveillance, concealment of records, improper use of information, inappropriate utilization of campaign contributions, covert activities and investigations, failure to react to law violations by subordinates, and disregard of lawful orders to provide papers and recordings.

In addition, the President this week took of lying to the public, to other government officials and to his attorney over the timing and extent of his knowledge of and direct participation in efforts to hide crimes.

He remained quiet while both friendly and unfriendly legislators debated the merits of evidence he knew was incomplete and misleading.

Even this week's disclosures included many omissions. And they revealed nothing that would not have been forced into the open sooner or later by court or legislative action.

The path left open to congressmen and senators now seems clear, and their duty obvious.

Nothing short of permanent transfer of the office of President from Mr. Nixon to Mr. Ford for the remainder of the 1973-76 term remains acceptable to the public and to the requirements of the Constitution.

Winter Wonderland

Was Nixon-Ford friendship too hot now to cool down?

By BILL WINTER

During a Far West tour last week, we had an opportunity to attend a public gathering at which Vice President Gerald R. Ford was the principal speaker.

It was our first opportunity to see him in person since a visit to Washington several years ago, when the then U. S. House minority leader delivered a detailed resume of legislative issues.

When we learned of his appearance scheduled for early last week, we made a point of attending. Nearly everybody likes to hear what a potential future President might choose to say, and there was a large turnout of several thousand.

Chosen by President Richard M. Nixon to fill the Vice Presidential post made vacant when Spiro Agnew was forced to resign, Mr. Ford has been a long-time associate of Mr. Nixon and has made a point of voicing kind words about the besieged chief executive.

At least that was the case until this week, when it became apparent that the last defense lines against impeachment were crumbling.

The Vice President said Monday he has decided to refrain from the time being from answering questions about impeachment and also from reiterating his once expressed belief in Mr. Nixon's innocence.

Another reason for Mr. Ford's reticence, he said, was that he did not want to be self-serving. If he had consistently voiced doubt about the President this summer, many might have interpreted his attitude as one of ambition and eagerness to advance to the oval office.

When we heard him on July 29, Mr. Ford pushed Nixon's name to the front of his mind, and he was greeted with a boisterous applause, and then turned to other topics.

The basic message was that America must remain strong militarily in order to accomplish its goals. On that point, the audience was loudly behind him.

Mr. Ford told newsmen that "I'm not anticipating or expecting anything from the President. Therefore, my total effort will be to be a good Vice President."

Asked what his advice to the President would be, he said, "My advice is to stand as he is; he's not going to resign."

He added that Mr. Nixon could prevail by "holding his case to the American people."

At the public rally a few minutes later, the Vice President said, "It is obvious to all that the President and Secretary of State Kissinger have done a superb job in the area of foreign policy."

He said a strong U. S. military posture made it possible to end American "soldiers' participation in the Vietnam war to return prisoners of war to their families, to strengthen the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and to negotiate with China and Russia."

Mr. Ford remarked, "Some forces in Congress believe if we react to the Chinese and Russia, we could solve our problems. But these countries only respond to strength."

He also commended Mr. Nixon for his statesmanship in settling their conflicts.

"When Israel, Syria and Egypt were negotiating a disengagement, they asked for Pres. Nixon. They did not ask for Mr. Brezhnev of the Soviet Union or other leaders. They trusted America; they trusted our President; they trusted our secretary of state."

He also commended Mr. Nixon for trying to balance the federal budget despite inflation. He said projects totaling $29 billion were vetoed in the last several years but the Congress

Vital to uphold U. S. Constitution

To the Editor:
Our country and its people are suffering many hardships that should not be, due to the lack of honest leadership in this great country of ours.
The hearts of the American people are heavy.
We have often heard it said, "You can't take one wrong, and make another wrong right." Therefore, we must think right and do what's right for the betterment of our country.
The time has come when the American people must stand pat and must not panic, regardless of what may happen at the White House in Washington.
Let's hope that justice will be done and the wrongdoers will be punished in a lawful manner. I know that many people will disagree, but the chips must fall, regardless.
We have time to come to bring the Watergate affair to an end for the good of our country. And the guilty must not go free, whether they be Democrats or Republicans.
This must be done to make it crystal clear to the American people that honesty is the best policy in all things, whether it be in government or in our daily lives.

Alert police curbed deceptive offers

To the Editor:
I would like to pay tribute to the effectiveness which two members of the Granite City Police Department displayed in putting an end to some rather deceptive offers which had recently been conducted in this city.
Those operations, which involved the use of false driveways and waterproof roofs, appeared to have been conducted in a manner that was designed to take advantage of the constant mobility of the operatives, it was extremely difficult to assess as to the reality of the offers.
However, acting on scant information furnished them, Officers Pomeroy and ... were able to apprehend the suspected individuals and to have them confronted by those dissatisfied with their services.
This required, in my judgment, considerable intelligence on their part, and the willingness to take on a task that less dedicated men might find tedious and thus shrink from.

City is too willing to block projects

To the Editor:
"City action blocks new home building"—July 29 Press-Record.
My opinion is that we have a non-progressive mayor, and a non-progressive building inspector.
The inspector recently retired from a steel mill and in my opinion is mainly interested in trying to impress engineers, architects and contractors with his knowledge of the building code.
With 25 years in steelmaking, how can someone be knowledgeable in another field?

Teasing of retarded children is cruel

To the Editor:
I do not know if other parents have the same problem as I do.
If one happens to have a child who is mentally retarded, the neighborhood in which the family lives is always plagued with children calling out, "You're retarded, you're retarded." That has happened to me. Most of the parents seem to not care what their children say to others.
It took me like this type of conduct shows very little intelligence on the part of the parents.
Even an older child in the family is being called such names. I have heard "retarded" until it is coming out of my ears.
Persons who are retarded cannot help it. Yet, there always seems to be some who have to show just how much ignorance they have by using the word.

New look at Vandalaria prison

VANDALIA — Crops and canines used to be the hallmarks of the Vandalaria prison, located near a pleasant small town in Fayette county. Not any more.
Until recently, the entire population was made up of male inmates—mentally retarded, 17 years and over—the vagrant, the drifting drunk, the non-supporting husband, the man whose offense wasn't serious enough to merit a long prison term but was too serious for just a couple of weeks in county jail.
Sentences to the Illinois State Farm at Vandalaria were phased out, the dogs distributed with good time and other credits, usually a resident stayed about nine months.
The Vandalaria State Farm isn't the state farm any more; it's now the Vandalaria Correctional Center. There are still 1,500 acres being used for crops, dairy cattle, beef and swine, but only 64 of the 620 inmates are involved in farm operations.
The guard and attack dogs once trained there are gone, now. The program was phased out, the dogs distributed among various police agencies which still use them, and the kennel building is now a residence, modern and comfortable.
The population is changing too. With little or no public recreation nearby, Vandalaria is only two miles away, the facility has been shifted by the corrections department from a minimum security institution for misdemeanants to a medium security facility where 56 per cent of the inmates now are felons—men sentenced to prison for serious crimes.
Vandalaria Correctional Center looks more like a small private college than a correctional facility, with red brick buildings in a long low line joined by a covered and columned gallery, the whole set back behind a neat lawn and attractive plantings, with tiled fields stretching out behind and to the sides. There is more of the cloister than the convict to its appearance, despite the warning signs along the approaching road: "Do Not Pick Up Hitchhikers." Even the residents at first spend money is for colored photos which are taken by the institution. The current Jaycee president has been in office nearly the entire year he has been at Vandalaria so far. The club is trying to get a soda concession for the "yard" during recreation periods and without the profits hopes to provide scoreboard for the baseball diamond.

The Jaycees furnish a Santa Claus who distributes candy to youngsters visiting the institution during the holidays, and hopes to get enough money to help inmates who are entitled to emergency furloughs but lack the money to go. Emergency furloughs are allowed for family crises, such as a death, critical illness or injury in the immediate family. The inmate must pay for his own transportation and pay $60 to $75 for the guard who must accompany him.

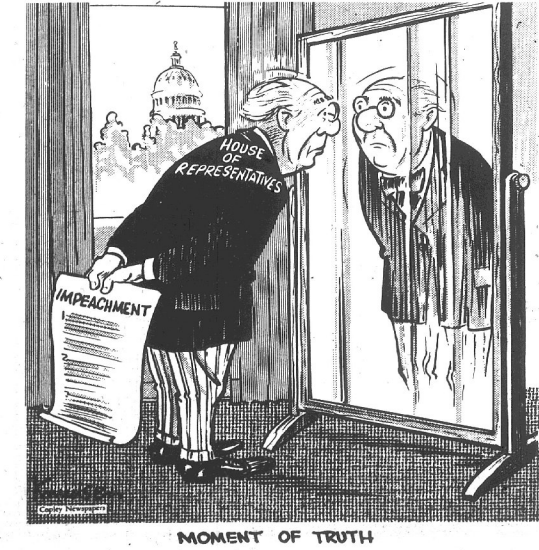

Though things are casual at Vandalaria compared to an institution like Menard prison, there are cells in the isolated and segregation units, there are disciplinary hearings for violations of rules, and punishment can range from loss of privileges to up to 14 days in isolation.

As inmates near release, they are offered a program which seeks to improve their image of themselves, showing how to see and how to sell what talents they have. They are taught how to write a resume, how to fill out a job application (not, as one recently did on a sample form, by showing he'd left his previous post due to "Jail").

One, who said he'd "never done nothing much" in his previous factory job, revealed during the intensive counseling sessions his "nothing much" included doing work it usually took three men to do, and training new employees. Eventually, he developed such a good image of himself he refused to accept the same job back when it was offered, and only returned to work at his old plant when he was guaranteed a series of good raises, and was promised he wouldn't have to do some of the old jobs he'd previously done but hadn't liked.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q. Is it true that a student can be exempt from income tax withholding?
A. Yes. Students and other individuals are exempt from withholding if they did not owe tax last year, expect to owe none in 1974, and have filed a Withholding Exemption Certificate (Form W-4E) with their employer.
However, if tax has already been withheld this year, the taxpayer must file a return next year to have it refunded.
Q. I hired a baby sitter to take care of my child while I went out looking for a job. Is this expense deductible?
A. Yes. A person may deduct child care expenses incurred while in the actual search for gainful employment as well as those incurred while working. For details on the limitations applicable to the child care deduction, see IRS Publication 505, "Child Care and Disabled Dependent Care." It's available free from your IRS office.

WHAT ABOUT RETIREMENT?

Q. What are the "joys" of aging? — B.K.F.
A. Although scientists are hard at work on the problem of aging, there's much that a person can do himself to control the signs of aging and lead a longer and healthier life, to wit:
Have goals. They should be challenging ones — changing with the days of your maturity and your physical condition — but always there to give life flavor and usefulness.
Don't look forward to retirement as a time when you sit. Consider it a point in time at which you give up one thing in order to do another you really want to do.
Learn to live with yourself. Accept your limitations and disabilities — mentally,

MOMENT OF TRUTH

Gen. MacArthur's return recalled 30 years later

An article in the July issue of the Illinois Amvets magazine features the activities of two members of Amvets Post 51 here—Paul Barnett of Missouri and Steve Konkovich, 2802 Dogwood Drive.

Barnett, 53, piloted the landing craft in World War II as General of the Army Douglas MacArthur made his famed return to the Philippines. Earlier, the general had pledged, "I shall return," when the islands were about to be conquered by the Japanese.

Konkovich, agent for Barnett, has been seeking to arrange a role for Barnett in a movie to be made of MacArthur's life.

A Charminglog Productions representative for many years, Konkovich handles publicity for Amvets Post 51.

He commented, "Anything relative to Gen. MacArthur warrants space in the press. It is important that I get coverage for Barnett in all aspects."

"It can be a deciding factor in him getting a part in the movie. When Oct. 20 rolls around this year, which will be the 30th anniversary of the landing, it will be a time to celebrate the historic landing and bring back the impact it had."

"Cong. Melvin Price did a real job for me in running down the material and getting the different proofs needed to document the landing. We have a large file on many contradictions that came from the Navy Department."

"I am trying to get Barnett to go to Leyte this October for the 30th anniversary and to the huge celebration they will have in Manila."

"I am writing to President Marcos of the Philippines to see if they can make some arrangements for Barnett to be there to re-create the landing. It's worth a try."

The Illinois Amvets publication recalls the 1944 events as follows:

The coxswain lowered the gate on the landing craft, and the general and his party waded about 50 feet to the shore of Leyte Island in the Philippines in one of the most famous military landings in history.

It was Oct. 20, 1944.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur had kept his promise to the people of the Philippines; and Navy Coxswain Paul Barnett, now a member of Amvets Post 51 in Granite City, was at the helm of the craft that carried MacArthur to his triumphant return.

Barnett, now 53, remembers that day when MacArthur sat next to him in the LCV(P) as "the biggest day of my life."

With a little luck, Barnett may have a chance to recreate that day by playing a part in the movie version of MacArthur's life, which is scheduled to be filmed this fall by Universal Studios of Hollywood.

It is being produced by retired Army Gen. Frank McCarthy, the man who produced the phenomenally successful movie, "Patton."

McCarthy is interested in using Barnett in the film and perhaps to help promote the movie when it hits the theaters. Barnett and his wife live in House Springs, Mo., about 128 miles south of St. Louis.

He has worked at Hussman Refrigeration in Bridgeton, Mo., since the war, and very few people even knew about the part he played in the landing.

Then, about four years ago, he began trading war stories with Steve Konkovich, publicity director for the Granite City Amvets post.

Some of the other employees didn't believe his story, so Konkovich wrote to U.S. Rep. Melvin Price and to the Navy Department to see if it could be verified through military files.

A news story about Barnett's role that appeared in his home town newspaper in Forest City, Ark., was lost along with some copies he had made. "The newspaper burned in 1950, along with its files."

Barnett says, "I didn't think Steve could do it. I just didn't think he would ever verify this for me."

But after months of letter writing and telephone calls, Konkovich got verification from the Navy, along with a picture showing Barnett at the helm with MacArthur, Philippines' President Sergio Osmeña, Gen. Carlos P. Romulo and some of MacArthur's aides seated nearby.

Soon after that, Konkovich saw a story about producer McCarthy's plans for the MacArthur movie.

Remembering how the soldier that Gen. George Patton had slapped during the war was used to help promote the movie "Patton," Konkovich decided to see if Barnett could be used the same way.

So Konkovich started another letter writing campaign, this time to McCarthy.

After several encouraging replies from McCarthy and an invitation to visit him in Hollywood, Konkovich, acting as Barnett's agent, flew out and met McCarthy at Universal Studios.

He says McCarthy was interested and is to call him about setting up an interview with Barnett in Hollywood.

Neither Barnett nor Konkovich knew what to expect from the Patton incident, Charles Kuhl, made more than $285,000 helping promote the movie.

Konkovich says, "That would be great for Paul, even if he only makes a few bucks. But even if he doesn't get anything out of it, it would be a lot of fun and excitement."

"I also think it would be a tribute to Paul. Here's a mild-mannered, but red-blooded American. I'd like to see him get the recognition for his service to the country."

Barnett, a somewhat quiet man, is still surprised at the whole development.

He says, "I never thought something might come of this 30 years later. If I had thought about it then, I really could have gotten some good pictures."

Drafted into the Navy in 1943, Barnett was assigned to the U.S.S. John Land, an attack transport.

Piloting landing crafts, he participated in invasions of Saipan, Iwo Jima, Tinian, Guam and Peleliu, which he says was the toughest assault he was in.

"We had to cross a one-mile coral reef to get into the beach every time we went in," he says. "It was really tough."

Barnett never did find out why his craft, Number 13, was chosen from the 24 LCV(P)s as the ship to take MacArthur ashore.

Laughingly, Barnett suggests it might have been because he and MacArthur were both natives of Arkansas.

About 10 a.m. the day of the landing, his craft was put into the water, and he went five miles from the land to the cruiser U.S.S. Nashville to pick up MacArthur and his staff.

MacArthur bypassed a special bench that had been made for him and sat on the engine cover next to Barnett.

But Barnett didn't get to talk with MacArthur, who was constantly conferring with his staff and Philippine President Osmeña.

Barnett says he noticed MacArthur's soldier-like appearance—the crease in his pants was as sharp as a razor—and he was dead serious about the events of the day.

"I didn't try to talk to him. I was just interested in getting him into the beach right," Barnett says.

The trip to Leyte took between 30 and 45 minutes. During the trip, an aerial dogfight between American and Japanese planes was going on overhead and several planes were shot down, Barnett says.

A sandbar stopped Barnett from getting the landing craft as close to the beach as he wanted. But MacArthur said it was all right; He would wade in the 50 feet to the beach.

Shortly after arriving on the beach, MacArthur stepped to the microphone of a portable radio and said, "This is the voice of freedom—Gen. MacArthur speaking. People of the Philippines—I have returned."

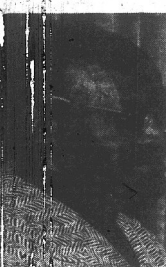

He had left the Philippines in retreat more than two years earlier as a massive Japanese army swept across the South Pacific and gained control of the Philippines.

Reluctantly leaving the island and falling back to the Bataan peninsula MacArthur vowed, "I shall return."

After 11 weeks of concentrated preparation, on Oct. 20, 1944, MacArthur launched his return on Leyte Island.

By July, MacArthur's forces

Anthropology honor society

The anthropology department at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has established the Alpha Chapter of Illinois in Lambda (Alpha), the national collegiate honor society for anthropology.

Purpose of Lambda Alpha is to encourage and stimulate scholarship and research in anthropology by recognizing and honoring superior achievement among junior and senior undergraduates, graduate students, faculty and other engaged in the study of anthropology.

The regional organization also publishes "The Journal of Man," which makes space available for student publications in each issue.

The SIUE chapter is the first chapter authorized in Illinois.

Chapter members of the Alpha Chapter of Illinois in Lambda Alpha include two Granite Cityans, Deborah Fuchs, 2124 Lindell Blvd., and Douglas Givens, 2342 Emert Ave.

Had won scores of the key islands, and he announced the liberation of the entire archipelago.

Of the men in the landing craft, only Barnett and Gen. Romulo were still alive three decades later.

Barnett believes MacArthur was one of the country's greatest generals, leaders and patriots.

"To me, he was the most outstanding general we had during World War II and even today. He was the top. I felt that way then, and I still do."

"I think things would have been a lot different today if Pres. Truman hadn't fired him. I think his military knowhow would have avoided things like Vietnam."

Inflation plagues school budget; praise for board

Inflation was cited as a key factor Tuesday night as the Granite City school board tentatively approved a $21,480,810 budget for the 1974-75 year.

Supt. B. J. Davis commented to the board that "this has been a difficult budget to formulate. It is, of course, an estimate based on past experiences and projections of future experience."

"With the normal increasing costs of supplies and equipment being accelerated at an inflationary pace, it becomes more difficult to project costs."

As the board knows, we have seen price escalations of from 20 per cent to 200 per cent.

"We have and are receiving bids without firm pricing, and even firm bids are not honored when we issue purchase order because the supplier can no longer provide the items at the given price."

"When you add to this the presently unknown amount of being accelerated at an inflationary pace, it becomes more difficult to project costs."

The state legislature sent to the governor an appropriation measure that permitted Illinois to live up to its legal commitments in funding the public schools.

"The governor has signed the measure but line vetoed $12,000,000. He has stated publicly that this would fully fund the aid formula based on his projections. He has further said that if it did not fully fund the formula, he would seek a supplemental appropriation."

"Although our expenditures are increasing, we are anticipating a reduction in local taxes for the second consecutive year."

"This year, our tax rate fell 20 cents. This year, we anticipate a further reduction of four cents," Supt. Davis noted.

"If our estimation is correct, we will be within four cents of our 1971-72 tax rate."

The actual reduction last year and the projected reduction this year came from the following funds:

Life safety — All required work has been completed.

"Special education construction — We presently can house all special education classes."

"Junior college — Reduced due to our becoming part of Belleville Area College."

"Bond interest — Reduced due to the retirement of the 1953 bond issue, use of accumulated interest, and a grant from the state of Illinois."

"The other funds are not estimated to decline."

"Our estimated tax rate in the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund continues to rise. This fund's tax rate is, in effect, determined by the state since it goes directly into the retirement fund operated at the state level for personnel other than certified."

"The estimated tax rate in the transportation fund is at its maximum and cannot be increased without approval of the voters. Our costs in this fund continue to rise, and in the projection of this budget, we anticipate a deficit."

"The building fund tax rate is also at its maximum and cannot be increased without voter approval. To keep this fund from a deficit position, some items have been moved into the educational fund."

"The educational fund tax rate is anticipated to be at its maximum."

"I believe this school district, under the direction of the Board of Education, has given its patrons programs in not only quality but quantity. It has done this over the last decade without the need to borrow money."

"As the chief administrator for this district, I would like to give the board a note of commendation."

"This board has always been conscious of the costs of operating a district of this size. It has, however, to its great credit placed the needs of a quality educational program first in its thinking."

"I would like further to offer commendations to all staff members who participated in the development of the budget, especially Comptroller Victor G. Anderson and his staff," Supt. Davis said.

Anderson noted that the recital of estimated income and proposed expenditures is presented on both a cash flow and an accrual basis.

"Not all of the sums, both income and expense, will agree in the two projections."

"The accrual basis budget represents those incomes estimated to be earned during the 1974-75 fiscal year, together with proposed expenditures and encumbrances for the period."

"The cash flow basis represents actual cash on hand, plus cash expected to be received during 1974-75, together with actual cash to be paid out during such period."

"This year, our assessed valuation was placed at $215,000.00."

"The past year, our valuation came in at a total of $216,430,372. This year, it is up slightly to a new total of $216,571,009."

"Since we will add a new shopping center and a few new residences to our district, it is estimated that our assessed valuation will be about $218,000,000. This will bring in a total of $21,800 for each penny of tax rate before any loss is applied."

"In the present year, the audit showed a loss factor of about three per cent in the 1972 tax year (1973 billing) collection rates," Comptroller Anderson said.

"Educational fund income in the past year included payment of taxes to the county treasurer's office and we received the first payment of taxes on Aug. 21."

"We were only a half day from issuing tax anticipation warrants for the 1973 year."

"In the present year, Granite City, Chouteau, Nameski and Venice townships each collected taxes locally up to July 1, 1974. This has given us tax collections and payments much earlier than usual."

"We received about $4,000,000 in taxes up to July 12."

"In fact, we received over $5,000,000 of this on June 16. It is the earliest that we have ever received taxes since my tenure in this particular office began in 1968," Anderson said.

"As of July 26, our state aid payment is to be fully funded, according to Gov. Walker. This means that we will get the $100,000 out of the outback in the 1974-75 year, and we will also get the $700,000 (92 per cent) out of the 1974-75 year's appropriation."

"Both of these items were deleted from the first draft (84 per cent for 1973-74, and 92 per cent for 1974-75) of this budget for a total of $800,000. These items are now included in the current presentation."

"We may get through the 1974-75 year without issuance of tax anticipation warrants."

"We have gone through the period from 1963 up to the present time without issuance of anticipation warrants. I think this is probably the only school district in Madison County that has a record as good as this."

"The increase in expenditure appropriations in this year's budget amounts to $1,677,502 for the educational fund as compared to an increase of $824,451 for the 1973-74 year, and an increase of $1,814,823 for the 1972-73 year."

Roofing estimate results in blows

Roger Matyas, 1633 Maple St., told police at 7:10 p.m. Monday, a roofing-contractor came to his house and demanded payment of $10 for a roofing estimate made about three weeks ago.

The householder said the work was not needed and refused to pay the $10 fee, saying it was not agreed upon at the time of the estimate.

Matyas said the contractor swung at him and struck him, then fled from the scene.

Air enlistment rules simplified

The Air Force Recruiting Service has clarified its enlistment procedures for the benefit of young people desiring information about the Air Force as follows:

- Age - Young men and women between the ages of 17 and 24.
- Education - High school diploma desirable.
- Pass the Airman Vocational Aptitude Examination.
- Meet the physical standards for enlistment.

Once an individual meets the above enlistment standards, the Air Force recruiter will counsel the applicant on all scores to determine the jobs for which the person is qualified.

The applicant then makes the decision for the aptitude area or specific job that he or she desires.

Once all qualifications and enlistment choices are made, either the Air Force job counselor or local Air Force recruiter telephones the Air Force Job Control Center at Randolph Air Force Base to obtain the assignment.

If the applicant does not wish to enlist immediately, he or she is at that time sworn into the Air Force Reserve (delayed enlistment program) until the active duty is to start.

The enlistee has no training meeting or other obligations for any active duty during the time spent in the Reserve awaiting the active duty date.

Those who believe they meet the standards for enlistment or would like more information about "today's Air Force" may contact the recruiter, Sgt. George Habbert, at 1204 Niedringhaus Ave., Granite City, or call 876-5225 (calls may be placed collect).

Right turn on red not always legal

By MARY LOU MANNING

Motorists beware. That right turn on red after stop is not always valid.

Although the law has been in effect for six months, there are certain intersections where the practice is unlawful. But the Department of Transportation has tried to keep the number at a minimum.

"The DOT has the authority to prohibit the turns, right and left, on state roads," explained George Moberly of the DOT's division of engineering and standards. "But our philosophy is this: since the legislature wanted this practice, it is up to us to keep the number of exceptions to a minimum."

Cities also have the right to erect signs prohibiting the turns.

According to the DOT official, a set of guidelines was developed last July and sent out to the 11 state highway districts. They are used as criteria to determine if "No Turns on Red" signs should be erected.

"These guidelines were passed along to all districts with the idea that they be used to determine whether or not the turn should be prohibited," Moberly said. "They are not mandatory, but leave the final decision up to each district on the basis of their traffic engineer's studies."

The guidelines include five situations in which the prohibition might apply. They are:

—where more than four approaches exist to an intersection. This does not occur very often, according to Moberly.

—separate pedestrian phases that display all red indicator for vehicles. This means that all lanes are red while pedestrian cross both ways.

—signals installed under school crossing warrants. "These signals have been erected only to enable school children to cross," he said.

—intersections where unusual geometric designs restrict the visibility of conflicting travels. This includes blind corners, buildings on corners which obstruct the view, etc.

—where posted speeds exceed 50 mph through the intersection. "We feel it might be inappropriate to allow turns where the opposing traffic travels at a high rate of speed."

There are also three situations in which the DOT suggests each intersection be considered on an individual basis. They are:

—those with heavy pedestrian traffic, such as those adjacent to major manufacturing plants or training centers.

—those with multi-phase signals, usually located in heavily congested areas.

"We are now taking some signs down which we felt weren't justified," stated Moberly. "We are also putting new ones up and will continue to do so as long as we feel the pedestrian's or motorist's safety is in jeopardy."

Mrs. Hoffman at workshop

Mrs. Viola Hoffman, Apt. 17, D Melvin Drive, cafeteria supervisor at Prather Junior High School, was among the 170 school food service personnel from Illinois who attended a food service workshop on the campus of Western Illinois University.

Mrs. Hoffman has been employed by the local school district since 1963. The five-day workshop was sponsored by WIU's Continuing Education, the School Food Services Section of the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the Division of Vocational and Technical Education.

Divided into four levels based upon each participant's past experience, the workshop program included special lectures and demonstrations at each level.

Topics covered during the five days included nutrition, menu planning, purchasing and cost control, personnel management, and sanitation. Demonstrations were given in baking bread, and meat cookery.

In addition to the formal workshop program, participants were given tours of the WIU campus, attended a dress rehearsal of WIU's musical "Annie Get Your Gun," and attended an evening picnic.

Illinois Congressmen not eager to be impeachment prosecutors

By LESTER BELL

Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Rep. Robert McClory and Rep. Thomas R. Sullivan, who have been so much in the television limelight that now they appear less than eager to serve as House prosecutors if President Nixon's impeachment reaches the Senate for trial.

The two Illinois Republicans on the House Judiciary Committee had been mentioned as possible prosecutors, or "managers on the part of the House," because they voted for some of the articles of impeachment.

McClory was even the author of Article Three to impeach the President for allegedly willful refusal to honor committee subpoenas. Rallsback voted against this as "political overkill."

During a luncheon interview in the House restaurant, McClory said he was not seeking the post of manager. "The only role I would accept or consider would be in regard to Article Three. That is an extremely important subject for future guidance of future Congresses."

McClory said, "Full disclosure of any person or office being investigated" is of paramount importance to an impeachment inquiry.

"For the President to 'stonewall' this is completely inconsistent with the whole process," he said.

Rallsback during a House cloakroom interview said he "certainly has a problem" with the prospect of becoming one of the House managers.

"There's a difference between being a juror," he said, alluding to his role on the Judiciary Committee, "and being a prosecutor."

He said he still hopes the President can "absolve" himself.

"I don't have my heart in prosecuting," Rallsback said.

Republicans were being questioned, meanwhile, by reporters about the resurfacing of the so-called "P. N. Hirsch" five-month-old proposal involving all House Republicans voting for impeachment and letting the Senate acquit or convict so the Congressmen would not suffer election retribution.

The White House reportedly was considering such a unanimous House GOP vote without debate in order to get a prompt Senate trial.

Rep. Lou Frey Jr., a Florida Republican, advanced the idea months ago but has since given it up.

When it re-emerged in the cloakroom, Rallsback said it might have "advantages and disadvantages," but he would "have to think about it."

Rep. J. B. Anderson, the Illinoisan who heads the Republican Conference Committee, one of the GOP leadership posts in the House, said, "I reject it out of hand."

"It debases the Constitutional process and makes the House become a forwarding agent. It sets an undesirable precedent."

McClory also promptly shot the idea down as "very bad."

"It deprives the members of the House the opportunity to review or recommend and consider possible amendments to articles, or to strike them out to express themselves on the issues."

Asked if he had received criticism from his district on his impeachment votes and his sponsorship of Article Three, McClory said he has "received a little adverse reaction," but the "pro-impeachment sentiment seems to offset it."

He said that, surprisingly, some far-right conservatives are supporting impeachment as vehemently as liberals.

"It's not unexpected, I might say," he said of the criticism.

"It doesn't bother me at all. I know that what I've done is right and I am fully prepared to justify and explain and support my position."

Rep. McClory, whose article against President Nixon was adopted 21 to 17 by the Judiciary Committee, had considered taking the matter to the House floor.

McClory was opposed in the voting on three by his fellow Illinoisans, Rep. Rallsback.

Whereas McClory argued that his article was "very basic and fundamental" in the impeachment procedure, Rallsback called it "overkill" in view of the two articles adopted earlier by the committee.

McClory had expected a close vote on what is tantamount to a contempt of Congress article.

He disclosed that Republican leaders had sought to dissuade him in the party's interest not to take the matter to the House floor.

McClory has long regarded the President's rejection of committee subpoenas—for tapes and documents necessary to the impeachment proceedings—as perhaps the ultimate confrontation between Congressional duties and rights and the President's claim to absolute executive privilege.

This, McClory said, is intolerable.

"We are now facing the hour of decision," he told the Judiciary Committee. "It is a case where Congress itself is pitted against the President."

During the interviews, McClory said he had thought of even earlier and more precipitate action against the President.

"I considered going to the floor. The Republicans urged me not to go."

"Yes," he said, when asked if Rallsback had sought to prevail upon him not to take a contempt citation to the floor.

Rallsback argued in debate in opposition to the McClory article that two courses had always been open to the committee: The President could have been summoned by the House to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of Congress for failure to honor the subpoenas, or the issue of the rejection of subpoenas could have been taken to the Supreme Court.

But, Rallsback pointed out, the committee took neither step.

Instead, it proposed to indulge in "political overkill" by approving McClory's article, he asserted.

Rallsback said the first two articles of impeachment were possible because a "fragile coalition" of Democrats and Republicans voted for them.

He said this bipartisan support for impeachment could fall apart under the weight of additional articles.

After the vote on his article, McClory told reporters during another brief recess that the committee had "finished our work."

"We should adjourn right now," he added. Defeat of two other proposed articles, on tax returns and Cambodia bombing, followed. The committee then concluded its deliberations.
